THE BALLOT BOX FORGERIES

John Sherman Gives Foraker Another Prod.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—The House Committee on the ballot box forgery, this morning called Senator John Sherman as the first witness. He was shown exhibit "A" and declared that he never signed it. He saw it first when it was sent to him in November by Halstead. The signature was a copy of his rubber franking stamp and not an imitation of his signature. The witness never heard or knew of the ballot-box contract, and never heard of the Campbell bill before Governor Foraker's music hall speech.

Murat Halstead, editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, testified that when he published Governor Campbell's signature, he cut off from the photographic copy of the paper the signatures below Campbell's. The witness told how he got hold of the paper, of his talks with Governor Foraker and others about it, and how it was thought advisable to use it in the campaign against Campbell.

The bill was then sent to the Assembly, which refused to concur in the Senate amendments.

THEY ARE SILENT.

The Democrats in the House Are Quiet—The New Rules.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—The Democrats in the House this morning carried out their policy of silent protest against the rulings of the Speaker, by declining to vote upon the question of approving the journal. The instrument was, however approved, yeas,153, nays, nothing, a constitutional quorum being counted by the Speaker.

The Committee on Rules reported the new code, and it was ordered printed and re-committed.

The Senate direct tax bill was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

DISABILITY PENSIONS.

The Minimum Rate is $72 a Month—Samoan Survivors.

WASHINGTON, February 6th.—The House Special Committee on Invalid Pensions this afternoon reported back the Senate disability pension bill with a substitute making the rate for total disability, $72 per month, and partial disability, $50 per month. The bill, as amended, passed.

The bill for the relief of the survivors of the Samoa disaster was also passed, as was the bill creating two new land districts in Montana.

THE CAUSE

Of the Fire in Secretary Tracy's House—The Senate.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—Fire Marshal Drew reports that, in his opinion, Secretary Tracy's house was fired by the explosion of a lamp.

The Senate after some miscellaneous business took up the bill to provide a temporary government for Oklahoma, and the clerk continued the reading of the bill.

ISOLATED PORTLAND.

Telegraphic Communication Is Again Interrupted.

CHICAGO, February 6.—Advices via the Western Union from the far Northwest indicate little improvement in the telegraphic situation. After the wires had been broken down by snow slides on the regular route to Portland, the company managed to get a wire through to Tacoma over the Cascade division of the Northern Pacific and thence to Portland. This held only for a short time. Reports this morning are to the effect that a heavy wind storm on the Cascade division blew down many large pine trees, breaking the wires.

The flood in the Willamette river at Portland carried away the cable laid across it, making the break in the connection more serious.

THE WILLAMETTE FALLING

And the People of Portland Will Get a Chance to Dry Up.

PORTLAND, Or., February 6.—This morning the river is stationary at this point, and it is thought there will be no further rise. Reports from Corvallis and Oregon City says it is falling one inch an hour there.

ROSE'S HORSES.

The Sale of His Entire Stud in New York.

NEW YORK, February 6.—Among trotting horse owners and breeders the sale of the entire stud owned by L. J. Rose of Los Angeles is considered one of the most important of the year. It will be held in this city March 5th, and includes twenty-nine colts and fillies from 1 to 3 years old, Sultan, the stallion Alcazar, and all the brood mares on the farm except the famous matron Minnehaha.

THEY FAVOR DEPORTATION.

Alabama Negroes Want to Go to the Congo.

BESSEMER, ALA., February 6—For several days the negroes have been holding meetings discussing Senator Butler's bill. They have sent to Congress the result of their deliberations which favor the passage of the bill and the emigration of the colored people to the Congo free state in Africa.

A Brooklyn Fire.

NEW YORK, February 6.—A fire in the matting factory of Joseph Wild & Company, Brooklyn, last night, did $150,000 damage.

Thought Better of It.

ALBANY, N. Y., February 6.—The vote by which the World's Fair bill was lost yesterday was today by unanimous vote reconsiderd in the Senate, and the bill was passed by 18 to 5.

DR. NICHOLS.

The Philadelphia Divine Chosen Bishop.

ELECTED BY THE EPISCOPALIANS.

The Second Ballot Gave Him the Majority—Proceedings of the Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 6.—After half an hour spent in devotional service, the deliberations of the Episcopal Convention called for the purpose of electing an Assistant Bishop for the diocese of California were resumed in Trinity Church this morning. Rev. W. H. Hill called the convention to order shortly after 10 o'clock, and nearly all the delegates who were present yesterday answered the roll call.

The first business ordered was the calling of absentees among the clergy from the southern portion of the State. With the exception of the Rev. Merlin-Jones, there was no response. The roll call of parishes in the Southern convocation, however, revealed the fact that several laymen had arrived since yesterday.

Rev. C. L. Miel, chairman of the committee on order of business presented majority and minority reports upon the mode of procedure to be employed in the election of an assistant Bishop.

The majority report provided that the clergy shall vote on candidates until one particular candidate shall have received a majority when the name of such candidate shall be submitted to the laity, who shall proceed to say whether or not such candidate shall be chosen. If the laity fail to indorse the candidate the clergy shall again select another name which will again be submitted to the laity, and so on, until a candidate is chosen concurrently.

The minority report differed from the majority on these points and favored a concurrent election by a concurrent majority vote of the clergy and laity, the clergy voting as individuals and each parish to have one vote only.

The majority report met with great opposition on the part of the laity, who maintained that if such a mode of procedure was adopted, the laity would have no voice in the selection of a candidate, as they would simply be allowed to vote upon the choice of the clergy.

Rev. Dr. Gray moved that both reports be laid on the table and that the convention proceed to the election according to the canon of the diocese. The motion was carried unanimously.

Previous to proceeding to ballot for an Assistant Bishop, on motion of Dr. Foute, the convention united in silent prayer for guidance in the selection of a fit and proper person for the important position of Assistant Bishop of the diocese.

The President asked if there were any further nominations.

Dr. C. L. Miel of this city then came forward and nominated for Assistant Bishop Rev. Samuel D. McConnell, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia.

Rev. Dr. Lathrop of East Oakland presented the name of Rev. R. E. Dennison, rector of St. Timothy's Church, Philadelphia.

Before proceeding to the election, the Finance Committee were permitted to report. George W. Gibbs, chairman of the committee, presented a report, which recommended that the salary of the Assistant Bishop be fixed at $5000 per year, and that the salary of the Bishop be fixed at $3000 from the time of the consecration of his Assistant.

The committee regretted that they could not fix the compensation of Bishop at a higher figure, but they were satisfied that the laity would increase the amount to at least $10,000 per year. The report was adopted as was also a resolution embodying the recommendations. The committee also reported in favor of paying the expenses of the special convention out of the regular convention fund, and it was so ordered.

Recess was then taken, and upon reassembling, the convention proceeded to ballot for Assistant Bishop.

The first ballot showed that Rev. Dr. W. F. Nichols of Philadelphia had received the greatest number of votes, 36, but had not received a majority, so a second ballot was taken, which resulted in the election of Dr. Nichols.

The second ballot was as follows: Whole number of votes cast—clerical, 49; lay, 42; necessary to a choice, 41. Rev. Dr. W. F. Nichols of Philadelphia had clerical, 28; lay, 21; Rev. Dr. W. Walker of North Dakota, clerical 1, Rev. T. F. Gailor of Tennessee, clerical, 4; lay,1; Rev. Bishop Talbot, of Idaho, clerical, 10; lay, 8; Rev. Rolinny, clerical, 3; lay, 2; Rev Dr. G. R. Vandewater of New York, clerical, 2.

Dr. Nichols having received the requisite majority, his election was made unanimous. A song of "Glory to God" then followed, and a committee of three was then appointed to notify Dr. Nichols of his election.

[Rev. Dr. Nichols, Assistant Bishop-elect of California, is the principal Episcopal clergyman in Philadelphia, always excepting the Right Rev. Bishop of that diocese. He was once elected Bishop of southern Ohio, but declined the high office. He may not accept the episcopate of this diocese. He is classed as a high churchman.—EDITOR TRIBUNE.]

Montana Legislation Finds Another Deadlock.

HELENA, Mont., February 6.—After the adjournment of the Senate yesterday, the eight Democratic Senators, incensed at the ruling of Lieutenant Governor Richards in counting them as present, took trains in different directions. They said they were going beyond the line, to get out of the reach of the Sergeant-at-Arms. Their continued absence will block all legislation.

HEARSES SCARCE.

The Influenza Epidemic in Mexico—A National Holiday.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, February 6.—Yesterday, being the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the Republic, was observed as a national holiday.

The influenza is increasing here, causing so many deaths that a sufficient number of hearses is not available to carry the bodies of the dead to the cemetery. President Diaz and several of the ministers of the cabinet are contributing from their own private purses for the relief of sufferers in poor circumstances.

IMPRISONED MINERS'

Three Hundred Men Shut Up in a Coal Mine.

LONDON, February 6.—An explosion occurred today in a colliery at Abersychan, Monmouthshire, by which three hundred miners were imprisoned for several hours. An opening was, finally, effected, and, at noon, two hundred had been rescued. A number of those taken out were severely injured. Rescuing parties are still searching for those remaining in the mine.

The owners estimate that 120 persons have lost their lives by the explosion.

Forty dead bodies have been taken from the mine, and fifty miners are still imprisoned. It is not known whether they are dead or alive.

LONDON NOTES.

A Welsh Home Ruler—Dock Laborers' Strike.

LONDON, February 6.—A committee of the Dock Laborers' Union is making arrangements for a general strike on Monday.

Alfred Thomas, a home ruler, will, at the coming session, move an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech opening Parliament, that the affairs of Wales ought to be administered by a special department, presided over by a minister acquainted with Welsh national affairs.

CAUGHT AT A CROSSING.

A Pasadena Woman Receives Injuries Likely to Prove Fatal.

PASADENA, February 6.—The 9:20 o'clock train this morning from San Bernardino ran over Mrs. Moore at Walnut street crossing in this city. The woman was thrown twenty yards. Her right foot was taken off, and she received internal injuries. It is not known whether she will live.

HIGH TEA.

Celebration of the Success of American Diplomacy.

BERLIN, February 6.—The confirmation of the Samoan treaty by the United States affords general satisfaction here. Herbert Bismarck called upon Minister Phelps before office hours this morning and congratulations were exchanged. Mrs. Phelps gave an afternoon tea today. Her rooms were thronged with American ladies and gentlemen who expressed much gratification at the results of American diplomacy.

A BOOTLESS TRIP.

The Rush was Unable to Cross the Columbia Bar

And is Now Bringing the Northern Mails Back to San Francisco—The Willamette.

TACOMA, February 6.—The Willamette river is higher than in twenty years past. Many bridges are threatened, and there has been great damage done in the entire valley. The revenue cutter Rush, with the northern mail from San Francisco, being unable to cross the Columbia river bar, has taken the mails back to San Francisco.

All Serene.

RED BLUFF, February 6.—It is a beautiful warm, clear day, and the river is down to the sixteen-foot mark. There is no rain in the mountains, and the trains are on time. The Sierra Lumber Company's yard is clear of water.

The Iowa Deadlock.

DES MOINES, February 6.—The deadlock in the House on the Speakership remains unbroken.

THEY ARE TWENTY.

Applicants for Appointment on Police Force Awaiting the Verdict.

The Police Commissioners today finished the examinations of applicants for appointment on the police force. One man who was unable to attend yesterday took the course of examination prescribed by Professor Cleveland Dam, and then the papers of the lot of twenty applicants were turned over to the Commissioners to be examined. The percentage will all be figured out by this evening. Then the Chief of Police will take the references of those who earned 70 per cent or over, and will investigate as to the character, etc., of each man. It is expected that each applicant will have at least five references, so the Chief will have considerable racing about to do before he can decide which men to recommend for appointment.

At the examination held before Professor Dam, the applicants made an excellent showing in arithmetic, did fairly well in penmanship, but somewhat poorly in spelling and Professor Dam has all the papers with the applicant's number on each, and until the papers have been finally examined he proposes to keep them secluded from public gaze.

Chief Tompkins hopes to be able to present to the Police Commissioners the names of eight men for appointment next Tuesday, but is not certain that he will have obtained all the information he requires by that time.

HOOK IN A HOLE.

Trying to Make an Insolvent Debtor Pay Up.

Last December Henry Van Winkle and wife called on E. Hook, the furniture man and purchased a splendid outfit for their neat little home. The bill amounted to $313 20, and Mr. Hook was prevailed upon to wait a little while for the debt to be settled. They enjoyed the pretty arm chairs, the sham holder, the lazy rocker, etc., until finally Mr. Hook commenced to inquire about his money. He received a reply to the effect that Mr. Van Winkle had become an insolvent debtor, and that he (Hook) was restrained from prosecuting his claim agains the insolvent. Mr. Hook does not propose to be put into a hole, and has filed a petition in court, upon which an order has been made requesting Van Winkle to show cause Monday, February 17th, why Mr. Hook should not recover his furniture or be prevented from suing for the same.

"Speck" Hines Arrested.

Police Captain Wilson arrested "Speck" Hines, a diminutive fourteen year old boy, yesterday, on Broadway, and handed him over to a San Francisco police officer. The boy is accused of till-tapping. His parents reside in this city and are respectable people, but Speck is frequently in trouble.

CUT AND SLASH.

The Insurance Men in Hot Conflict.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR THE PUBLIC.

Strenuous Endeavors to Obtain a Cessation of Hostilities—Evening Councils of War.

Now is the time for those who have been holding off for cheap insurance to step in and take advantage of the situation. Dwelling houses, the ordinary rate on which is $1 20 per $1000 for three years, are being accepted for from 50 to 75 cents, and business establishments are being rated at 40 and 60 per cent below the old figures. The insurance men are naturally not feeling very jovial over this condition of things. They are getting plenty of business, to be sure, but then they are taking risks that, in a business sense, make their heads swim. As an instance, a saloon, the rate on which should be $2 25, was yesterday taken for 50 cents, in defiance of all the statistics presented since the companies first came into existence. To patch up peace is what is generally desired, but how to do it, is a question that staggers the sagest of them all. The only way out of the difficulty is, either for the New Zealand to cry "peccavi" and haul down its flag, or else for the other companies to give in. And as there are 111 in all, it looks like a case of the survival of the fittest. In a quiet way the companies are trying to make some local arrangement among themselves, and, as has been exclusively announced in THE TRIBUNE, evening meetings are being held by the agents, and the situation carefully reviewed.

There was a representative attendance when the agents went into session last night at the office of the Home Mutual Company. The question of a local agreement was the one under debate, and although the document which has been drawn up with the object of attaining this desired end, has been kept secret, THE TRIBUNE is enabled to give the gist of its contents. Over the signature of those agreeing to maintain it, appears wording whereby they bind themselves not to fight against one another, but to war only against the company or companies refusing to subscribe. It has been signed by the representative of every agency except H. T. Smith's, the Union of San Francisco, the Phoenix and Home and the New Zealand, the last named company not having been as yet consulted in the matter. Mr. Smith was present at last night's conference, and stated that he had received instructions from headquarters to sign the document only if the other companies all did so, and that he would therefore have to decline to pen his name for the present. On motion, a committee was appointed, consisting of T. Agnew of the Anglo-Nevada and H. Vogel of the Southern California, to go today to San Francisco and confer with the managers of the non-agreeing companies, with the object of inducing them if possible to join the local compact. The meeting then adjourned to convene again tonight, when the result of the committee's labors will be announced.

It does not appear as if the New Zealand Company is to be consulted in the matter at all, so if the other agencies agree, it will be a general leveling of swords at the one outside organization.

A remark, which A. G. Davis states H. F. Gordon made to him, illustrates at least the feeling of the Home Mutual Company on the issue. The words used, says Mr. Davis, were, "We will cut and slash you when we can, we will take your business and we will have nothing to do with you."

Interviews this morning with the leading insurance agents show that very little mercy is being shown in any quarter, and the situation was ably outlined by Secretary Blood of the Oakland Home Company. He said: "Everything is being cut right in half, the reductions running from 50 to 75 per cent. below the schedule rates. Since the opening of the conflict at noon yesterday, we have re-issued twenty policies in this office alone, and at the other places, business is running proportionately. I do not think that the efforts that are being made to form a local compact will amount to anything, and if not, the war will continue as it is now, an open one, and not directed against the New Zealand alone. The way hostilities are being conducted are as follows: An agent goes to a business house that he knows is insured in, let us say, the New Zealand Company. The regular rates may be $1 30, and he offers to take it up for 50 cents. The owner of the place in question then goes to the New Zealand, tells him of the offer made, and of course that company drops to the same terms. So you see that the man who goes after the business does not always get it, he simply compels the opposition to drop prices. In my opinion the death-knell of the union is sounding, and the end will come for certain if the war extends to Los Angeles, as is threatened."

A. G. Davis of the New Zealand objects to the statement made by other newspapers that he misunderstood the agreement, and says that he has advanced no such argument at all. He affirms that he and Mr. Craig went before Alfred Stillman, manager of the Pacific Union and asked him direcly if they could make their salaried solicitors part of the company and that the answer was affirmative. The appointment of O'Rourke as one of these salaried men would now appear to have a great deal to do with the trouble. O'Rourke had been previously working on commission for the Sun and other companies, and was engaged by Mr. Davis on salary, in defiance of the constitution of the union. Mr. Davis claims, however, that he was justified in this act, because the companies that had been employing O'Rourke had also violated the constitution by paying him a higher commission than that mutually agreed on and that therefore his standing as a commission man could not be justified.

T. J. Raleigh, of the Southern California company, said, that like the rest, he is cutting on new business, but that he declined to fight on policies belonging to other companies. He told a good episode of the war as he chatted pleasantly away about the campaign. Shortly after noon yesterday the proprietor of a big dry goods house on Broadway, who had read in THE TRIBUNE that war was raging, walked hastily in and asked to have all his rates reduced. The individual in question carried policies to the amount of $25,000 in the Anglo-Nevada, the London, Liverpool and Globe, the Oakland Home and the Southern California, but in no instance were the rates high in comparison to the risks entailed. Mr. Raleigh therefore asked him to wait until he conferred with the representatives of the other companies and the result was a mutual agreement not to reduce the rate a cent. When the drygoods man was informed of this he was much astonished, as he confidently expected a re-rating that would be a mere bagatelle, so he argued long and earnestly against the decision. He met with no weakening though on any side, so gathering his policies he announced that he would today journey to San Francisco and have his rates cut there.

Another episode of the struggle is related by A. G. Davis. He says that J. H. Troy of the Liverpool, London and Globe went to Mrs. Canning, who carries $30,000 on the Canning Block, and offered to reduce the rate from $1 80 to 70 cents. Mrs. Canning, of course, assented, and, as she carried $20,000 in Mr. Troy's agency, she obtained from him a policy for that amount on the new rate. Then he said, he would make out, at the same figures, the $10,000 carried by the New Zealand Company, but she refused to allow him to do so, and he had to retire, with the sorrowful reflection that the only result of his visit had been to cut his own rates over sixty per cent.

Among some of the more noticeable instances of reductions made since the first gun was fired are as follows: The McDonald block cut from $1 30 to 50 cents, and from $1 90 to 75 cents; the Brag place at Fruit Vale, from $1 20 to 50 cents, and Kahn & Sons from $1 20 to 50 cents, a score or so of more places having been equally affected.

In spite of the story told on him, J. H. Troy said that he is doing no cutting at all, and a similar statement was made regarding the Anglo-Nevada Association, although it lacked confirmation from Mr. Agnew, who was absent in San Francisco, doing the committee work appointed at last night's meeting.

Theo J. Fish of the California Company, when told of the saloon being rated at 50 cents, said that the agent was foolish to make any such figure. Illustrating the peculiar features attending the war, he said that the Armory Hall, which up to a few days ago was refused at a $4 rating, was today insured at $2 50. Complaints had been made on many occasions, he said, that the Oakland rates were too high, but he did not think so. Personally he was not hankering after Broadway property, for although the city has so far enjoyed immunity from serious fire, yet the possibility of the business center being wiped out is always hanging overhead.

A. Fuller of the Fireman's Fund said that a local board is what is necessary to run the insurance business properly in Oakland, for he claimed that even when no war is raging there is always a secret cutting of rates on the part of many of the agents.

A. Strong & Co. of the Hartford said that the reductions they have made since yesterday noon have been mainly on the renewal of their own policies. Like Mr. Fish, they were not desirous of obtaining the Broadway mercantile business at cut rates.

Similar statements could be obtained in every insurance office, the trend of all being that the agents are in the field armed cap-a-pie, with the determination to meet blow for blow. It is not probable, though, that rates lower than those present obtainable will be quoted, for the figures now being given, are, in many instances, suicidal for the agencies and ruinous to profits.

JURIES DEMANDED.

The Chinese Lottery Agents Follow the Usual Obstructive Course.

Attorney Chapman and a swarm of almond-eyed clients, who are charged with violating the statute prohibiting the selling or giving away of lottery tickets, were in the police court this morning to have set the trials of the clients. Mr. Chapman waived the reading of all complaints and other formalities, but demanded a jury in each and every case. The trials were set as follows: Ah Ni, two charges, March 11th; Ah Foy, two charges, March 19th; Low Chung, two charges, March 25th; Ah Fook, one charge, March 28th; Quong Tuck, three charges, April 1st; Ah Sum, three charges, April 4th; Ah Ping, one charge, April 8th; Ah Charley, four charges, April 11th; Ah Jouey, five charges, April 15th; Ah Wong, six charges, April 18th; Ah Jim, five charges, April 22d; Chung Lee, four charges, April 25th; Ah Chung, seven charges, April 29th; Cin Sing, eight charges, May 2d; Gee Share, five charges, May 5th; Ah Chung, one charge, May 9th.

MRS. RICHARDS DEAD.

A Weak Body Succumbs at Last to Chronic Disease.

Mrs. Seth Richards died yesterday at her home on Prospect avenue, near Webster street. She had been ailing a number of months from chronic troubles, but her death was none the less a surprise to her many friends, who had hoped for the lady's ultimate recovery. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

A BROKER'S BRIDE.

Allan C. Reid Quietly Married at the County Clerk's Office.

Allan Charlton Reid, a well dressed gentleman, who gave his age as 50 years, stepped up to Cupid's counter in the County Clerk's office yesterday afternoon and secured a license to marry Adelaide Hunt, a buxom woman, 35 years old, who stood without the office during the preliminaries. Mr. Reid whispered to the Deputy Clerk that he was desirous of immediately having the nuptial knot tied, and as he was somewhat of a stranger in Oakland, desired some information as to where he could go to have the ceremony performed. He was informed that he could be married with dispatch in an adjoining room, and the services of Rev. George W. Bothwell, who is employed in the Clerk's office, were brought into requisition, and before the ink on the license had fairly dried Miss Hunt was Mrs. A. C. Reid having been joined by Dr. Bothwell's beautiful ring marriage service.

"Let me congratulate you," said Dr. Bothwell to the bashful bride as he gave her hand a hearty shake. Mr. Reid is a first cousin of Whitelaw Reid, Minister Plenipotentiary to France. He has been married twice before, his first wife being deceased and he is divorced from his second wife. Reid was at one time a leading broker on Wall street, New York, and was reputed to be very wealthy.

SIX CHICKENS.

Martin Bitterly Admitted That He Stole Them.

Martin Bitterly claims to be 14 years old, but is scarcely three feet in height, and probably weighs fifty pounds. Small as he is, however, he stood up in the police court dock this morning, when a long document was read, charging him with the theft of six chickens, value of $2 50.

Martin's steel-grey eyes gleamed brightly, as he piped out the word "guilty." Then the court asked a few questions which were answered promptly and with absolute frankness:

"Who is your father?"

"He's a cook."

"Does he know that you are here?"

"Dunno."

"Have you a home?"

"Yep."

"What did you do with the chickens?"

"Sold 'em to a Chinaman."

"Were you hungry?"

"Nope."

"Then you didn't have to steal?"

"Nope."

"Did you steal the chickens in the daytime or at night?"

"At night."

"You are certainly very frank," observed his Honor, and then he ordered little Martin to show up tomorrow morning and have his father in court.

For Watch Stealing.

William McDonald, a youth of 18 was tried and convicted today in the police court of stealing a watch worth $10 from the residence of Mrs. Mary A. Clear on Ninth street, January 23d. The youth had been "choring" for Mrs. Clear, who gave him small sums on the representation that he was hungry. After the watch disappeared McDonald failed to appear at the house of his benefactress.

They Were Happy.

Mrs. J. Green, the freckled-faced colored woman who is housekeeper for the crippled jockey, W. H. Moore, was set at liberty in the Police Court today, and she and Moore left the room beaming with smiles. Mr. Green is languishing in prison for chasing Moore with a knife.

Fast Driving.

Albert B. Decker, who was arrested yesterday for fast driving, forfeited $10 bail rather than appear in the Police Court today.

SAM'L'S BROTHER.

A New Director of the Peralta Park Hotel Association.

East Berkeley, Lorin, and Newbury People Said to Be Unanimous in Favor of Annexation.

Mrs. A. L. Halsey is recovering from the pneumonia.

Dr. C. P. Bates of North Berkeley has removed to Santa Barbara with his wife and mother.

A cottage has just been begun on Bancroft way, between Shattuck avenue and Fulton street.

William McIntosh of Dwight way will start for the East next Wednesday, and will be absent until May 1st.

The school teachers received their warrants yesterday, and a raid was immediately made on the treasurer's office.

Louis Gottshall was able to get down to his business in Oakland yesterday for the first time in three weeks.

The commission appointed to appraise damages in the opening of Hester street will commence operations immediately.

William Patterson of San Francisco has taken up his residence in this town, on Walnut street, between Cedar and Lincoln streets.

R. L. Scott, clerk at Joseph McClain's grocery store, has gone to Sacramento for a week, to be treated for hemorrhage of the lungs.

T. G. Brotherton has opened a cigar store in the Antisell block. He intends to open a real estate office in connection with the establishment in the course of a few weeks.

The majority of the electric light globes are cracked or entirely broken to pieces. New ones are on the way from the East. A large quantity of supplies, to be used in the extension of the plant, is also on the way, but has been delayed, much to the disgust of the contractor, J. M. Kline.

Justice Little still holds the fort and states that he has no fear of being ousted. His term of office will expire in about four months. In all probability, however, no justice of the peace will be elected at the next town election, as candidates will prefer to be on the safe side and be elected at the general election.

A meeting will be held in the eastern end of town some evening next week for the purpose of arranging for a systematic fight for annexation on the 15th inst. The prominent advocates of the cause from this town and from the district to be annexed will be present. East Berkeley is almost unanimous, as are Lorin and Newbury, in favor of the scheme.

Sidney Rhorer of North Berkeley will sing this evening and tomorrow evening in the opera Bells of Corneville, which is to be presented at the opera house in Alameda. Mr. Rhorer has the ruputation of being a very excellent basso, and a large number of his Berkeley friends will attend both performances. Mr. Rhorer takes the part of the miser "Gaspard" in the opera.

A meeting of the Peralta Park Hotel Company was held last evening at the office of J. T. Morrison in North Berkeley. Director Embury tendered his resignation, and Frank Curtis, brother of M. B. Curtis, was elected director in his place. The newly elected director is lately from the East, is a thorough business man, and will devote considerable time to the welfare and prosperity of the project which his brother has so successfully managed.

The trial of the cases against Jago and Snow for board bills were tried yesterday. In the complaint they were charged with beating Peter Maloney out of $5 each. T. F. Graber appeared for Mr. Maloney. Jury trial was waived and Judge Little rendered judgment against the defendants for $26 60—$10 due Mr. Maloney, and $16 60 court costs. John Acheson says he is surprised that men can be compelled to pay their board bill, and will think seriously about commencing about 200 suits of the same kind.

West Berkeley.

A. B. Mills is having a sidewalk aid in front of his property on Ninth treet.

M. Marceus sold out P. Haller's rocery store and saloon yesterday fternoon.

The Sixth street culvert is being repaired by the workmen under the harge of the Town Marshal.

Joseph McVey is about to open a aloon in San Francisco on Valencia treet. He has bought out the establishment of a man who is about o retire from the business.

Golden Gate.

F. F. Davey has removed to Oak nd.

Mrs. J. O. Watkins is confined to r house with the influenza.

Geo. Babcock has found it neces y to hire another hand at his es blishment.

An Unexpected Shot.

Tommy Bendixen and Charles Potter, Temescal, were out hunting yester y afternoon. During the journey mewards the loaded shotgun carried Potter accidentally discharged and oad of bird shot entered Bendixen's ht hip, wounding him somewhat se ely. The wounded youth has been ced under the charge of Dr. Muller.

SPORTING NOTES.

De Witt Van Court of this city is the only boxing instructor now employed at the Olympic Club across the bay. He says that the club has a great many promising young boxers.

The Committee on Programme of the Blood Horse Association has completed the programme for the next spring meeting. The meeting will open on Saturday, April 12th, for which day races have been set for decision. On the next day, Tuesday the 15th, there will be four races. On Thursday the 17th four events will be run. On the last day, Saturday the 19th, the programme consists of five races. Entries close March 5th, declarations the evening before the race. The meeting may be held at the Oakland Trotting Park.

FIVE WINDOWS.

Memorials to be Placed in the New Unitarian Church.

Several costly memorial windows will be placed in the new Unitarian church building when it is completed. One of them will be presented by Mrs. S. Gertrude Smythe in memory of her husband, the late J. K. Smythe. It will be the circular window in front of the edifice, and will probably be made in the East. There will also be a large and costly window in memory of the late Judge Oscar Shafter and a number of others. There will also be in the new church an appropriate memorial of the late Rev. Dr. L. Hamilton. Mrs. William Norris, of San Francisco, has presented $1000 to the church for a window in memory of her former husband, Rev. Thomas Starr King.

All the telegraphic news is supplied by the Associated Press report, received exclusively in Oakland by THE TRIBUNE.

A YOUNG WIDOW.

She Takes Possession of the Money of Her Husband's Estate.

When Thomas A. Moore died in this city a few days since it was thought that he left little money for his surviving widow. But the relatives of the deceased are at war over his estate and the widow is now charged with conspiracy and fraud. From the papers in the case it appears that a few days since Alton H. Clough, at the request of the widow, Hattie E. Moore, applied to the Superior Court to be appointed administrator of the estate of Moore, and asserted in his petition that the estate is worth $120 only. David Craig comes into court with a petition charging that the statement is false, and that when Moore died he had $1400 in the Oakland Bank of Savings, $640 in the Union Savings Bank, a watch and chain worth $75 and other personal property, aggregating in all to the sum of $2290. Mrs. Moore, the widow, is only 22 years of age, and among the other heirs is Ann Susan Craig, sister of the deceased and wife of the objector. For several years prior to his death Moore was a victim of consumption. But this fact did not deter him from marrying Hattie E. Hitchcock in August, 1889. Subsequent to the marriage he deposited the money in bank. Moore commenced to feel himself failing, and he constituted Charles Jurgens his agent for the management of all his financial affairs, and delivered to him a check for all the money in bank. It is claimed that it was agreed that Jurgens should give Moore any money that he desired, and that, upon his recovery to health, Jurgens should return to him all money in his possession. At the time Moore expressed a wish that in the event of his death he, Jurgens, should deliver to his widow the money remaining in his hands. Evidently Moore doubted his wife, because it is charged that he had confidence in Jurgens and believed he would follow his directions and return the money in case of his recovery, while if he gave it to his wife he feared that she would not return it in the event of his restoration to health. After Moore died Jurgens was true to his trust, and turned over the money to the young widow, and she now has it in her possession. It is asserted on the part of the petitioner that Clough and Mrs. Moore are conniving and conspiring together to divert the money, amounting to $2040, from the estate and to defraud the brothers and sister of the deceased out of their just and lawful inheritance. Craig says that the widow has converted the money to her own use, and has disposed of and squandered the portion belonging to the estate, and that she is financially irresponsible. He therefore asks the court to examine into the matter and appoint some person as administrator to the end that the rights of the brothers and sisters of the deceased may be protected. Craig asserts that he is a creditor of the estate and wants his rights protected.

THE INDIANANS.

Election of Officers for the California Organization.

The Indiana State Convention of California assembled in Dr. Hess's office last night to elect officers for the ensuing year and transact the regular business. The following were the selections made: President, W. C. Hendricks, Sacramento; first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh vice presidents, respectively: Abner Doble of San Francisco, Dr. L. P. Hess of Oakland, J. G. Edwards of Oakland, Judge A. Buckles of Fairfield, Solano county; H. C. Dibblee of San Francisco, L. A. Booth of Piedmont, Judge E. M. Gibson of Alameda county; recording secretary, R. B. S. York, Oakland; corresponding secretary, J. A. Calhoun, Oakland; treasurer, J. M. Bassett, Oakland.

After arranging to hold meetings once a month, at 1103½ Broadway, adjournment was taken to March 5th. It is proposed to form an auxiliary association for the young people of the society, but this will be arranged later, as will, also, the location of the basket meeting, to be held on May 10th.

CITY WHARF REPAIRS.

Plans, Specifications and Estimates to be Prepared.

The city wharf has long stood in need of repairs or rebuilding, and the City Engineer has been requested by the Board of Public Works to furnish as soon as practicable, plans, specifications and estimates for the rebuilding of both the Webster and the Franklin street slips. It is understood to be proposed by the Board of Public Works to cut the old wharf in two, so as to make it even with the new wharf between the two streets, and to put in new piling and lay new planking. At present, and for some time past, the old wharf has been so shaky and apparently insecure on its pins that those who were obliged to venture upon it did so in fear and trembling. The old piles are thoroughly toredo-eaten and the planking is much worn.

A Lecture by Dr. Southard.

On Friday night next Dr. W. F. Southard, oculist, will address the public school teachers at Lincoln school building, "The Care of the Eyes" being his subject.

Sale of Damaged Goods.

Owing to the heavy rains, which flooded our basement and partly submerged several cases of goods, which were supposed to be out of the water's reach, we find ourselves with a stock of well watered goods, which we propose to get rid of in short order. These goods are not badly damaged, only the ends of the pieces being wet, and as they happen to be all wash goods it will not materially injure them, but as we are opposed to wet dry goods on general principals, they must go. Among this lot is one hundred pieces of fancy dress ginghams worth 12½ cents per yard, to be cleared out at 8⅓ cents per yard, one case of unbleached muslin, worth 10 cents per yard, to be sold at 6¼ cents, a few pieces of canton flannel, worth 8 cents per yard, selling now at 5 cents per yard.

As our discount sale commences Monday, these goods will be on sale Saturday, and must be sold.

Purification for Diseases.

Throw physic to the dogs, } Macbeth,
I'll none of it.—Shakespeare. } Act. V.

Purification under the old law did save.—Milton.

Hydropathy and Hygiene is the science of curing disease by purification without the use of physic.

Under its salutary influence all morbid accumulation of poisons and disease are cleansed from the human body.

When properly administered all chronic cases of rheumatism, gout, constipation, indigestion, face blemishes, foul skin eruptions, and other inflammatory diseases are healed.

This law of purification never fails to operate and restore to health unless in the last stage of disease or the vital forces of nature are exhausted by old age.

Invalids who are sick and weary of using physic without avail, may adopt this system and regain their health.

The most enlightened Physicians of the age are now successfully using this purifying system of saving life.

The Proposed Annexation to Berkeley.

The annexation election set for the 15th instant, in Berkeley and part of the territory which adjoins it on the south, seems likely to cause legal complications should the proposed annexation be carried. It has already been pointed out in these columns that the lines of the proposed annexation include three important schoolhouses—those of the Peralta, Lorin and Bay districts—without including the whole of these districts. Now as these have been bonded for large sums to build the schoolhouses, it seems clear that, should the annexation be made, the town of Berkeley will have to assume all the remaining debt, and besides, make good to the people left out in in the cold, their pro rata of the debt already paid. It is an odd fact that the people of the territory which, it is thus proposed to cut off from school facilities, have no voice in the matter, but this is something which cannot well be remedied. We believe it would be a distinct gain for those districts to become part of a progressive municipality like Berkeley, but it would have been wiser had the districts been included as a whole. In this way the necessity of a painful and probably litigious settlement of the claims of outsiders would be avoided. As for the other aspect of the case, whether the bonded debt of the districts would become a charge on the whole town, we are unable to say, but it is certain that the school buildings would become the property of the municipality.

Mistaken Economy.

It was a piece of ill-advised and mistaken economy in the first instance to send the Oregon mails north on the revenue cutter Rush. That vessel is a slow boat, not built for such service, and the coal consumed on the trip would cost more than the sum asked by the steamship company for carrying the mail. Under the most favorable circumstances the voyage made by the Rush would consume a longer time than was necessary, and this was a consideration of much importance, because there had been already so much delay, owing to the blockade on the railroad. It now turns out that the Columbia bar was breaking so badly that the officer in command, a thorough seaman, deemed it imprudent to risk his ship to reach Portland. The Rush is now on her way back to San Francisco with the mails, and the backnumber letters will have to take their chances of going north or staying here until they are mouldy. The railroad will probably not be open for several days, and as the department thinks $1 a sack too much to pay the steamship company, they might charter a lumber schooner.

THE conflict of law which has agitated Oakland for some time is just beginning to be felt in Los Angeles, where they have at length discovered that the Whitney act wipes out of existence their police judges, and there, as here, there are wild imaginings as to the effect of the decision on the street law. Our agitation here has measurably calmed down, and we have arrived at the conclusion that the State law concerning streets and the charter law on the same subject are not in conflict, because the charter was framed in view of the probability that a decision affirming the supremacy of the State law would be rendered. If the Los Angeles charter was not framed with a similar purpose they may find very serious complications arising.

THE American Navy is regarded abroad with affection, rather than fear, if one may judge from some remarks of the Japan Herald, on the departure of the old Monocacy for China, to wit:

"Her departure removes a very familiar object from the harbor. She last arrived here on April 8, 1887, and with the exception of a trip or two to Yokosuka here she has been ever since. During that time she has been three times surveyed, twice condemned and twice advertised for sale by auction, but in the end she has struggled through her troubles, and is now as good as she ever was."

A Bill to Make Timber Reservations.

Secretary Binney of the American Forestry Association sends the text of a bill, which it is proposed to introduce in Congress, for the protection of the rapidly decreasing area of Government timber lands. The bill is designed to carry out the sense of certain resolutions of the Association adopted last October at the annual meeting in Philadelphia. Its preamble and principal provision may be quoted:

WHEREAS, The permanent preservation and proper administration of a sufficient forest area, especially upon mountain slopes and about the headwaters of streams, are absolutely necessary to preserve and regulate the water supply, and to protect the agricultural interests of a large and rapidly increasing population, as well as to provide an adequate timber supply for the same for all future time, and to prevent destructive recurrences of drought and flood; and

WHEREAS, The forests upon the public lands of the United States are being rapidly destroyed by the ravages of fire, and by reckless cutting of timber both with and without authority;

THEREFORE, Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the unsurveyed public lands of the United States, embracing natural forests, or which are less valuable for agriculture than for forest purposes, and all public lands returned by the public surveyors as timber lands, shall be, and the same hereby are withdrawn from survey, sale, entry, or disposal under existing laws, except as hereinafter provided, nor shall any timber be cut or removed from the said lands except for the actual needs of persons upon the said lands engaged in carrying out the purposes of this act.

The bill provides further that the army shall guard the lands reserved, from fire, theft, and use by unauthorized persons, and for the appointment of a United States Forestry Commission.

Of the sound policy of the bill there can be no question, but its chances of passage are very doubtful. The grasp of the timber thief on the public lands is very tenacious. He has money to spend, and influence. The force behind a measure of this sort is of that negative kind implied in the faint, inattentive approval of those who would be glad to see the forests saved, but will not take any trouble to that end. California is more interested in a measure of this sort than perhaps any other State in the Union, because the timber thieves are particularly active here just now, and because the valleys are in large measure dependent on the mountain timber area for their summer water supply. The State Board of Forestry recently drew up a memorial in support of the principle of the bill above outlined, but, although the statement is clear and forcible, it seems impossible to get the people really interested. It may be feared that the extinction of the California forests is only a question of time, and that time cannot be very far postponed. We believe, however, that, if measures were instituted to save the second growth, the anticipated injury could be largely prevented, but this is a matter of State rather than National control.

THE little prefix "Pan," used to identify the international congress of delegates from the nations of the three Americas, has been the cause of much philological disturbance in learned circles during the past year, and the excitement has not all died out yet, for a new contributor to the literature of the subject appears in the person of a candidate for a teacher's certificate in Humboldt county, who thus explained to the astonished examiners the objects sought to be obtained:

The Pan-American Congress meets in Washington. Its object is to inspect the workings of the American system as found in the United States, and to consider ways and means for the promoting an international Pan.

Clearly the frying-pan.

The Only Paper.

Oakland Paragraph.

Certainly one of the most phenomenal successes in Western journalism is the wonderful and rapid growth into public favor of THE OAKLAND DAILY EVENING TRIBUNE under the successful management of Mr. W. E. Dargie. On Tuesday evening it made its appearance as an eighteen page paper, filled to the brim with the latest telegraphic and local news—a first class newspaper in every sense of this much abused term. Accompanying the regular edition of eight pages was a trade supplement of ten pages of solid reading matter, making a total of 126 columns, the largest and most comprehensive publication ever issued in California, outside of San Francisco, from a newspaper office. There was not a dull line in the mammoth double issue. The news of the day, gathered from all parts of the world, was told briefly and to the point. In addition to this stupendous undertaking, The Tribune Publishing Company sent out its annual edition, a souvenir publication of sixty-six pages with a handsome illuminated cover—and add to this nineteen pages of autotype engravings. The sketches cover almost to a man every element of Oakland's versatile industries, the fine phases of our remarkable growth and the possibility of our splendid future. The review of the business enterprises of the city, with a pictorial gallery of representative citizens, was prepared with a view to promoting the mercantile and trade interest of Oakland, and advancing and enhancing the prosperity of her people. Neither labor nor expense has been spared to accomplish these ends and present a creditable publication. THE TRIBUNE is the only Oakland paper using the Associated Press reports, and it is rapidly becoming the leading evening paper of the State. The Paragraph congratulates THE TRIBUNE, and wishes it the continued prosperity it so well deserves.

A Train Breaks a Jaw.

James Walsh, an iron-molder at the Judson Works, was struck by a train last Tuesday evening while walking along the railroad track between Emeryville and North Oakland. He was thrown from the track and received a compound comminuted fracture of the jaw and cuts and bruises about the face, and other severe injuries. The man was removed to his home in North Oakland.

The injured man is lying at his home on Twenty-sixth street, and Dr. Woolsey reports the injuries to be very serious. His skull is fractured, and he has concussion of the brain. The doctor dressed the wounds again today.

FISTIANA.

Gossip and Comment on the Doings of "The Fancy."

BILLY NAUGHTON AND THE ROUNDER.

Where Tommy Warren May Train—McAuliffe, the Lesser, Arrives—Jackson's Status Assured.

The predicted decay of pugilism on this coast does not seem to the ordinary onlooker to be at all as rapid as certain prophets predicted immediately after the fake fight between Warren and English Murphy.

There is no particular reason why it should, simply because those two frauds were detected in an attempt to pull the wool over the eyes of the directors of the club, the onlookers and the referee.

Talking of that referee, Hiram Cook, it will take the most knowing of the fakir "pugs" all their time to fool him. He knows what real fighting is, and has no patience either with what is a sham, or what is unfair in the prize-ring. He is my beau ideal of a referee.

He is practically familiar, as most people know, with the use of his own "bunch of fives." I have a very distinct recollection of the thorough good licking which he administered to the notorious "Brick" Macpherson when he undertook to do up poor little Burke in the corridor of the Auditor's office in the New City Hall in San Francisco. Biff! biff! and Brick went down, even as the historical McGinty did, and he bellowed for mercy like any bull calf on his way to the shambles.

I am somewhat astonished to find that Tommy Warren has been given another chance to fight in San Francisco after the disgraceful way he acted toward the California Athletic Club and his being ruled off the list of reputable "pugs" by that organization. It is somewhat "bad form" for the Occidental Club, and for Murphy as well, to have anything to do with him.

Besides, if the charge brought against him by Madame Church of the White House is made to stick, Tommy will do some training in "the seclusion which the prison grants." The better class of pugilists are rapidly coming to regard Warren as anything but a credit to their order and, are almost all fighting very shy of the once famous featherweight.

It is a pity that the Los Angeles boy should have fallen into such evil ways, for there is no question of his being very clever with his fists and a most promising candidate for the championship in his class. Wine and drabs have, however, downed Tommy—so they say—as they have many a better man. Murphy, I strongly suspect, will get away with him more easily than he did with the "Spider."

Turning from small things to great, what a fine reception that was they gave Peter Jackson at New York on his arrival from England, where he had covered himself with glory as with a garment, and been the recipient of fetes, banquets, jewelry and bull terriers at the hands of the jeunesse doree of the Pelican Club. Whether it is altogether a laudable form of hero-worship, this lionizing of a prize fighter—and a negro at that—may be open to some doubt in the minds of many; but this much may be said for Jackson, that he is possessed not only of exceptional muscle and sinew, but of a degree of modesty that is very unusual in the devotees of the "magic ring," whether they figure in the inside or on the outside thereof, and, for the possession of those characteristics, if for no other reason, he should be well treated and much thought of.

His courtesy in one respect, however, seems to be slightly overstrained, and, indeed, to verge on affectation. Just think of his always speaking of John L., the big brute and bully from Boston, as Mr. Sullivan. Save the mark! Casting pearls before swine were the act of a sensible man compared with the wasting of the term "Mr." on such an animal as Sullivan. Beshrew me else.

It is not so long ago since the Champion sneered at the idea of fighting with the blankety-blanked "nigger." Now he talks differently, but names a big figure as the price of his condescending to waive the color line. I, for one, would be unspeakably delighted were Jackson to make him bite the dust and cry whatever in the Bostonian's limited vocabulary may stand for peccavi. The color line forsooth! Why, Jackson is a far bigger man to-day than nine-tenths of the "white trash" who have been Sully's chosen chums and boon companions, and has done more to obliterate the color line than Fred Douglas, or Even Colonel Fisher, Mayor Pond's distinguished aide de camp.

Billy Naughton, I see, accompanies the black giant in his triumphal progress. A good story is told of Billy, which I cannot help repeating, simply because I know it to be true, having received it at first hand from two gentlemen who were eye witnesses to the affair. When the Jackson party were in Chicago Billy "happened into" a saloon much affected by "the fancy," and while he stood at the bar, a burly rounder indulged in sundry uncomplimentary remarks regarding "the —— black nigger." Naughton's dander got up, and, as he is something of a scrapper himself, he told the rounder that, if he did not "dry up," he would wipe the dirty sawdust off the floor with him. Mr. Rounder immediately jumped the exsporting editor of the Chronicle of San Francisco, and they had it rough and tumble for a while. The result was that Billy came out at the small end of the horn, with both his eyes in mourning, and a vague impression on his dazed brain that he had been monkeying with a new and aggressive kind of band wagon with a bull dog attachment. The "rounder" turned out to be no other than Bill Bradburn, an expugilist and the conqueror of Frank Glover in his best days. Bill is now an assistant buyer for Armour, the great pork packer, and he is known as one of the toughest nuts in the Windy City and a good man to avoid.

The local newspapers were squared about the matter and they all gravely stated that the man who was licked for being "sassy" to Bill Bradburn was Sam Fitzpatrick, Jackson's trainer. But it was Billy Naughton, just the same, who got the punishment.

I very much mistake if the affair, now that it is "given away," will not cost Billy, when he comes to the Coast, considerable in the way of "the wine of silence"—that is, Mumm—before the boys let up on him.

⁂

It is said—with what truth deponent sayeth not—that Joe McAuliffe and Con Riordan are to go partners in running a gin mill. Well, I suppose that is the height of the ambition of all pugilists, but I am sorry, I confess, to hear of Joe's going into the business. He always seemed to me deserving of a better fate. True, Young Mitchell has gone in for selling whisky, but then Herget is one of a thousand, and is not in the least likely to give way to the temptations of his own barroom. Every "pug" has not the cool nerve or the steady, self-reliant will of the coming middle-weight champion of the world.

By the time this is in type, I expect that Jim Corbett will be on his way to New Orleans to meet Kilrain. Corbett has never yet met a man anything like his match, in my humble opinion, and the six-round contest between him and Jake ought to be well worth seeing. I agree with Mike Conley, in the opinion expressed by him in THE TRIBUNE one day this week, that the result will be a draw, resulting in credit—and ducats—to both men, and in no harm to either.

Of course, Corbett's affair with Dave Campbell in Portland was nothing but a "put-up job," for the amusement of the Webfooters, and the glorification of their champion. Why, Dempsey laid out Campbell with one punch on the nose about four years ago, and think of pitting him against the finest heavy-weight we have on the Coast to-day—bar Barney Farley's "big b'yc," Joe, of the Mission!

It seems like a glimpse back into one of the pages of the semi-medieval history of the ring to find Billy Madden, in the body among us. True, he is not such a patriarch as Jem Mace, but, all the same, he is no spring chicken, and, if he had done nothing else to render him illustrious beyond bringing out John L. Sullivan and Charlie Mitchell, he would be entitled to a niche in that temple, wherever it may be, where "the immortals" of the pugilistic world are laid up in lavender to make their memories keep.

Billy is here to manage and direct Jack McAuliffe in his preparations for his coming fight with Jimmy Carroll. Madden and Dick Roach are a great team for a man to have behind him, and things look exceedingly rosy for Jack when he enters the ring.

He paid a visit to the Neptune Gardens in Alameda on Wednesday to see his friend Dempsey and have a look at his training ground. Mike Conley says he looked fine and very much like the "bookie" he has been for some time. A San Francisco contemporary remarks that he does not look at all like a prize-fighter, which means, I suppose, that he has not "the fighting mug," which was once regarded as the invariable characteristic of a slugger. He certainly has not the brutal bulldog features of the pugilist from the lowest plane of humanity, but neither, for the matter of that, has Kilrain, or Mitchell, or Ryan, or Joe McAuliffe, or Dempsey, or Herget, or Conley. Perhaps the most forbidding face at all prominent in the ring to-day is that of the champion, and his manners and habits are in harmony with his frontispiece.

With regard to Dempsey, Needham, etc., I shall have more to say by and by. This much however may be said regarding the Nonpareil (a name most justly applied) that he will be so near to the "form" of the Dempsey we have so long known and admired, when the time comes for him to tackle "the only McCarthy," that the result will be a foregone conclusion, and heaven help the Marine if he sticks to his agreement to fight the winner! The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

STREET WORK.

Improvements Ordered and to Be Ordered.

THE NEW MOUNTED POLICE PATROL.

A Proposition for a City and County Hospital Defeated — Nineteenth Avenue Assessment.

The Councilmen were tired, President Camron was tired, and City Clerk Brady was tired, and this, the third consecutive meeting of the legislators the city, was consequently a staid, sleepy, business meeting. Only twice was there the least flicker of life, and that was when Mr. Evans gave the City Attorney a little shot, and when a feeble attack was made on the Board of Public Works.

Nineteenth Avenue.

The Street Committee tried to hold a meeting before the regular session of the Council. The committee meeting was not as smooth as it might have been, for it took the committee over half an hour to determine upon a report upon the Evans resolution ordering a new assessment for the street work upon Nineteenth avenue. When they did present a report it was in the shape of a resolution denying the appeal of the property owners for a new assessment.

J. C. Martin then informed the Council that they might do a great many things, but they could not change the right of any person to appeal. That was given to people by statute. The only thing that they could do would be to affirm or deny the assessment.

"If we ever needed legal advice we need it at this time," said Mr. Evans, getting in an under-cut at the City Attorney. "Here we are floundering in the dark with no one to advise us. Mr. Martin's advice may be very sound, but he is in the unfortunate position of attorney for an interested party, and it would only be right for him to talk more in the interest of his client than of the Council. However the resolution may have been worded, it was the intention of the committee to allow the courts to settle the matter. I am in favor of settling the matters as cheaply as possible. The contractor estimates the cost to the city as $2100, the property owners, who have not lost the right of appeal, at $6000, and the auditor, including those who have forfeited their right of appeal, who would have their rights renewed by a decision of the courts, at $10,000. I am in favor of having the assessment corrected so as to make the city liable only for the smallest amount, if that is possible."

Mr. Martin said that there was but one alternative. The Council must either affirm or deny the assessment.

The whole matter was laid over for further consideration.

The Board of Public Works.

Among the many miscellaneous resolutions passed by the Council were several that were direct slaps at the Board of Public Works. In the first place the following resolution of instruction to the Street Superintendent completely ignores the Board of Public Works:

> The Superintendent of Streets is hereby authorized to purchase macadam for repairing Broadway, between Seventh and Fourteenth streets, and filling the chuck holes, and he is hereby ordered to immediately repair the same.

The resolution was passed.

The following resolution, which also was passed, had originally been written so as to apply to the Board of Public Works for the information, but again the board was ignored, and the City Engineer substituted:

> Resolved, That the City Engineer be and is hereby requested to furnish this Council with an estimate of the probable cost of an official map of the city of Oakland, as described in sections 101 and 31 of the charter, and also a statement as to the time needed to prepare such map. Said map to show the grades of all streets which are officially fixed, and the existing improvements, such as sewers, macadam, manholes, etc.

City Clerk Brady read the following:

> Resolved, That the Board of Public Works be and is hereby "respectfully"* requested to furnish this Council as soon as possible with a report of the condition of the streets of the City of Oakland; and also furnish a statement, in detail, of all needed repairs of macadamized streets, gutters, crosswalks, culverts, manholes, catch basins, and to mention, further, such as should be replaced with new material.
>
> [*This word was erased before the passage of the resolution.]

"What's that?" asked Mr. Evans.

The resolution was re-read.

"That's right," he commented. "I'm in favor of that. Give them something to do if they want to work so badly."

Mr. Wakefield did not want to throw needless work on the board.

"They have been wanting something to do," replied Mr. Evans, "in addition to what we have already given them, and which they have not done. Now we will give them something to do that needs to be done. There are lots of streets that need repairs, and they are the ones to give us the information, so that we can act."

Then Mr. Wakefield suddenly discovered that there are several roadways in East Oakland that needed macadamizing, but the work cannot be ordered because the property owners will not petition for it.

"You draw up the resolution of intention and we'll pass it," said Mr. Macdonald.

"Yes. We'll run it through," echoed Mr. Kirk.

Mr. Brosnahan called attention to the needed repair of San Pablo avenue.

The resolution of instruction to the Board of Public Works was adopted.

Suddenly City Clerk Brady began reading a resolution that made every Councilman sit bolt upright in his seat. It read:

> Resolved, That the Board of Public Works be and is hereby empowered and instructed to authorize the Superintendent of Streets to employ fifty laborers for street cleaning, whose pay shall be $2 per day each.

"I move that it be referred back to the committee," said Mr. Evans.

"I am in favor of that," said Mr. Brosnahan.

"Where did that come from?" demanded Mr. Evans.

"I think that Joe McAvoy did that," said Mr. Kirk.

Mr. Wakefield moved its adoption, and Mr. Brosnahan seconded it.

The vote stood:

Ayes—Messrs. Earl, Wakefield, and Brosnahan—3.

Noes—Messrs. Evans, Towle, Macdonald, Kirk, and President Camron—5.

Then it transpired, but not openly, that it was an old resolution that had been drawn up a long while ago, and that it was not intended that it should be read.

Resolutions of Intention.

The following resolutions of intention were passed:

That two sewers be constructed in Washington street, from Twelfth to Fourteenth street, and they there unite in a single pipe sewer to be laid by the city across the City Hall park.

For a sewer in East Eleventh street, from half way between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues to Seventeenth avenue.

To pave Washington street with bitumen, from Seventh to Fourteenth street, and making allowances for the small piece of bitumen at Ninth street, basalt gutters in front of the Blake and Prellin blocks, and certain granite curbs already laid.

For a sewer in Twenty-third avenue, from 150 feet northeast of East Twelfth street to sewer in East Twelfth street.

For a sidewalk on Franklin street, from Fourteenth street to Durant streets, except where already laid.

For a sewer in Chestnut street, from the terminus of the sewer in that street, between Thirty-fourth to Thirty-sixth streets, to the west line of San Pablo avenue.

To re-grade, re-curb and macadamize Sixth street, from Brush to West streets.

A resolution of intention for a sidewalk of bitumen on Ninth avenue was laid over, as it was discovered that the resolution was so worded as to compel all those having cement walks to tear them up and lay bitumen.

Street Work Ordered.

The following street work was ordered:

Sewer in Linden street, from Thirtieth to Thirty-second streets.

Grading, curbing, and macadamizing Thirty-fifth street, from Market to Grove streets.

Grading, curbing, and macadamizing Twenty-second street, from Valley to Franklin streets.

Two catch basins on Sixth avenue, from East Twelfth to East Fourteenth streets.

The Main Lake Sewer.

A resolution instructing the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for reconstructing the Main Lake sewer of cement, from Harrison street to the lake, was laid over, as it contemplated the expenditure of more than $500, and would require an ordinance.

Ordinances.

Ordinances were acted upon as follows:

Establishing grades on East Nineteenth street from Eighth to Thirteenth avenues. Passed to print.

Authorizing the Board of Public Works to construct an intercepting sewer along the railroad right of way from Twentieth avenue to the estuary. Passed to print.

Authorizing the expenditure of $1000 in payment for the professional services of Rudolph Hering, finally passed.

Appropriating $950 for the professional services of G. T. Allardt, finally passed.

Appropriating $8000 for the two La France steam fire engines, finally passed.

Establishing the width of sidewalks on Franklin street, from Seventh street to the water front at fourteen feet, finally passed.

Abstracts of Titles.

A resolution in a strange handwriting and on strange paper, was read, authorizing the Finance Committee to procure abstracts of titles for the City Attorney, to be used in his investigation of the opening of the proposed new streets.

Mr. Evans couldn't see the necessity of this. The City Attorney did not seem to think that he was the one to attend to the proceedings of opening streets, and, in that case, special counsel will have to be employed, who will have enterprise enough to look up these things himself.

Mr. Wakefield did not echo Mr. Evans' sentiments. He thought that the documents should be furnished.

Mr. Towle said that he had personally assisted in paying $75 for an abstract intended to be used in the proceedings to open a street in his ward, and no one had ever used it.

President Camron said that it was not necessary and the resolution was tabled.

Miscellaneous Resolutions.

The following resolutions were passed:

That the commissioners on the opening of West street be allowed to withdraw their report to correct some clerical errors.

That the City Engineer be instructed to establish an official grade for East Twenty-second street, from Seventeenth to Twenty-fourth avenues.

That J. T. Moran be granted permission to lay a sewer in Thirteenth street, from a point 860 feet west of Washington street to the sewer in that street.

That the resolution ordering the grading of Twenty-fourth street be rescinded, as the grade had never been established.

That J. B. Carrington of the Board of Education be allowed six months' leave of absence.

That the Board of Public Works be authorized and requested to advertise for bids for a lot to be used as an engine house in the Third ward.

That Henry Reudy be allowed to construct a third story on his building on the corner of Seventh and Franklin streets.

Gas Lamps.

Gas lamps were ordered at the corner of East Sixteenth street and Twenty-first avenue, and at the corner of Fifteenth avenue and East Twelfth street.

"It seems as if the Councilman from the Second ward and the Councilman from the Seventh are each trying to see who can get the most lights for his ward. First one gets a couple of lights and then the other, in order to balance it, gets a couple, leaving the rest of the city in the dark," said Mr. Evans.

"Any ward that is represented by Mr. Evans is certainly well lighted," replied Mr. Towle.

"The Seventh ward is certainly thankful to this Council that the Council has done its duty by the ward in the matter of lights," said Mr. Wakefield politely.

All Sorts.

A resolution found its way on the table instructing the Street Superintendent to remove some obstructions in the shape of stumps in the sidewalk on Twenty-second street, near Filbert.

"That resolution makes the city do the work," said President Camron.

Mr. Macdonald explained that the stump is right at the end of a nice cement walk, and that night two or three persons had taken headers over it.

"I would suggest that the property-owners be compelled to place lights on the stump," said Mr. Towle.

"That's in Mr. Towle's ward. Appoint him a committee to remove it himself," said Mr. Macdonald.

The resolution was corrected to order the property-owners to remove it.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Board of Public Works to purchase three horses and equipments for the use of a mounted patrol.

"Has the Council ever authorized an increase of the police force, or has it ever provided for their payment? That is a little suggestion," said President Camron dangerously.

A resolution was introduced appointing a committee to consult with the Supervisors about a City and County Hospital.

Mr. Wakefield explained that there was a necessity for a hospital in case of an epidemic.

"La grippe?" asked Mr. Macdonald.

Mr. Evans objected strongly and said that the only way to satisfactorily deal with the county question was to form the city and county of Oakland.

The resolution was defeated.

When John Herbert was allowed a saloon at 257 B street Mr. Kirk inquired, "Where are all the ladies?"

The Council turned around, and sure enough they were playing to an absolutely empty house, and so they adjourned for once without naming a date.

In no Oakland paper save THE TRIBUNE is the Associated Press report printed.

Wants His Claim Protected.

James H. Jennings, one of the defendants in the suit of A. Montgomery against the Farmer's Union et. al., has filed an answer and avers that he recovered a judgment against the insolvent corporation for $5255 and he wants his claim protected.

WARM ON THE HILL.

Fears of a Sudden Thaw in the Sierras.

MR. FILLMORE AND A THERMOMETER.

A Visitor Who Came to This Coast to Enjoy the Climate-Light Travel to the Slope.

At noon today the weather was reported as clear and warm on the Central Pacific route and over the Shasta route. The weather on the Sierra Nevada mountains is so warm that there are great fears of a very sudden thaw, in which case there would be incalculable damage to the Southern Pacific company from washouts. Ever since the snow blockade was broken the officials of the Southern Paific company have been watching the changes in the weather on the mountains and it has been their hope that there would be no sudden thaw. The warm weather today seems to indicate that such an event is liable to occur at any moment, and Superintendent Wright of the Sacramento division and General Superintendent Fillmore are making preparations for any emergencies in the way of washouts. The snow shovelers are still employed on the mountains in widening the cuts and running side cuts off into the gulches so as to prevent the water from running through the railroad cuts and washing out the tracks. The big washout at Humboldt has been repaired but the swollen condition of the rivers makes slow running necessary. Train No. 4, due from the East at the pier at 9:10 A. M. today was four hours late. The track from Colfax to Reno is in very bad condition.

The snow blockade on the Oregon route has been broken as far as Montague, but the warm weather and the rains have so melted the snow as to cause innumerable landslides above Redding, and it is an impossibility to run an engine north of that place. Landslides are occurring continually, and so fast that the shovelers cannot keep the track clear.

THE EFFECT OF THE STORM.

Tracks Rough and Washed Out—Into Santa Cruz.

The effects of the heavy rain of one week ago last Friday, which washed out the roads of California so badly, have not yet been cleared away entirely. Every now and again some minor landslides occur on Superintendent A. D. Wilder's division, but they are all promptly cleared away. The double track from Oakland to Port Costa is in operation, but a ride over it is like riding over a corduroy road, so badly has the road bed been washed out. A large gang of section men are at work ballasting the track. Even the Oakland local track, which is the best piece of road bed in California, was badly washed out by that rains and is in very rough condition. A gang of section men is also at work on this road.

The washout at Avon has been temporarily repaired, but orders have been issued to run very carefully between that point and Brentwood.

The landslide at Altamont is giving some trouble, and occasional small slides are reported.

The South Pacific Coast Railway is now being operated to Felton, and it will be a day or so before Santa Cruz is reached.

The Coast Division, broad gauge, has at last got a train into Santa Cruz.

NO BUSINESS.

Railroad Men Complaining of Lack of Travel.

J. J. Warner, the Oakland agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad in this city, gazed mournfully out over the counter of his office yesterday afternoon.

"This has been the dullest day of the dullest winter that I ever saw," he remarked. "This is absolutely the worst I ever saw. There is no travel either east or west. The Central Pacific is in such bad condition that people are afraid to travel on that line, and the Atchison road is getting most of the through business from Chicago, but I can tell you that it is getting very little. Nobody is traveling unless he has to travel. This is due to the fact that in the East the winter has been mild, and often with a thermometer ranging from 30 to 60 degrees, while here it has been nothing but storm and bad weather. As a matter of fact people are afraid to come here. It will take another very good winter here and a very bad winter there to bring many travelers out here. Last year the Raymond and Whitcomb parties were coming out here loaded down with tourists, and now they are more than half empty. I don't see any hope for travel this year at all.

"By the way," added Mr. Warner, who is a confirmed baseball crank, "Roscoe Coughlan and George Stallings departed for the East over the Atchison line. Baseball players are generally pretty sensible."

WORK RESUMED.

Signs of Activity on the Alameda County Railway.

Signs of activity are already beginning to show themselves on the Denison short line, which starts in a wheatfield at Fruit Vale and ends in a half completed tunnel, near Mills Seminary. For so short a road, with so short a life, this road has a more varied and extensive a history than almost any other railroad in the United States. Every now and then some spasmodic action takes place at some point on the line, and yesterday there was another shake up.

A Southern Pacific engine ran up to Fruit Vale and out on the track of the Alameda County Railway, to where the one engine of the Alameda County Railway lies embeded in a field. By a little judicious working the engine was pulled upon the track and towed down to the railroad yards of the Southern Pacific Company at West Oakland, where it will be thoroughly repaired and made ready for service. This is the first work that been done under the new management.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES.

A Visitor Who Came to California to Enjoy the Winter Climate.

Night Operator Wright at the Oakland pier is sick.

The pay car has completed its trip over A. D. Wilder's divisions.

Large quantities of ties for the Denver and Rio Grande are being received at Long wharf.

The heavy fogs of late have interrupted the regular trips of some of the ferry steamers.

Conductor Baker of the Oakland local is one of the most careful conductors in the service. He has been running on the local for three years, and during that time has not had one disaster that can be traced to his carelessness.

R. H. Smith, the father-in-law of J. C. Wilder, is visiting Mr. Wilder at his home in Berkeley. Mr. Smith was Mayor of St. Catherines, in Ontario, Canada, and he usually spends his winters in Florida in order to escape the rigorous climate of his home. This winter he decided to come to California and see the country, of which his son-in-law has been writing in such glowing terms. He arrived three weeks ago and has been sick in bed ever since. He has become thoroughly disgusted with our glorious climate and is now trying to discover what kind of a winter Florida has experienced.

Southern Pacific Company Finances.

The Southern Pacific Company earned $46,343,207 86 last year, of which $30,294,365 75 was paid out for operating expenses, leaving a balance of $16,038,842 11. The gross earnings represent a decrease of $355,907 31 from those of the year before. The operating expenses also show a decrease of $104,310 28, while the earnings over operating expenses show an increase of $47 902 97 over these for $1883. The total surplus was $1,344 073 In 1888 the surplus was $2,588,804 41, and in 1887, $1,458,251 23. Since 1887 the company built 466 miles of new road in this State, which have been operated at a loss of $127,000.

AFTER THE SHAREHOLDERS.

Another Corporation That Can Not Pay Its Debts.

Philip Monroe has commenced suit in the Superior Court of this county against the Knights Ferry Manufacturing Company, and all the shareholders of the corporation to recover the sum of $6950 20. It is charged that the company is insolvent and cannot pay its debts, and has done nothing wherewith to satisfy the claim of the plaintiff. Some time ago a judgment was secured against the corporation for the sum named, but nothing could be secured when an execution was levied. The judgment was then assigned to the plaintiff and he has commenced this action to revive the judgment and compel the shareholders of the corporation to pay the debt. Edward C. Robinson is the attorney for the plaintiff.

THE INSURANCE WAR.

What the Bad Effect of the Present Rate War Might Be.

A Correspondent Points Out What Appears to Him to Be the Dangers of This Action of the Union.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: We have labored under the impression that insurance was based on scientific principles, and that the Pacific Insurance Union was an organization of the several underwriters operating on this coast, having for its object harmony and maintenance of compensative and uniform rates of premium, but it would seem that we have been laboring under a very great mistake. The year 1889 proved the most disastrous in the history of fire underwriting on this coast, and in the face of the fact that the premium receipts, based on tariff rates of the union, fell far short of meeting the losses and expenses for the year, the compact manager, with the object in view of chastising a single member, issues his manifesto authorizing the Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley agents to reduce the rates 90 per cent from present tariff. This, to say the least, is a most singular proceeding—the persecution of all of the members and demoralization of all of their business, because the actions of one member does not suit the manager.

That the insuring public may the more fully appreciate the situation we annex a statement of the business transacted by the several members of the union on this coast the past year:

Premiums received...... $9,516,666
Losses paid........$7,965,1 8
Expenses estimated.... 3,365,6 3—11,330,771

Loss over all.......$1,714,745

Here, it will be observed, that even at full tariff rates the outgo for the year exceeded the income nearly, if not fully, two millions of dollars, and now we find this harmonizer, the Pacific Union, ordering its members to reduce their rates in Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley 90 per cent. from a tariff that was found the past year to be inadequate. Certainly this is not the way to make good the losses of the past year; far from it. It simply means ruin to the companies and loss to their policy holders; for certainly companies doing business at one-tenth of the ascertained cost of insurance in prosperous seasons cannot long continue to meet their obligations at such a wholesale reduction. We would imagine that the stockholders in these companies—the gentlemen who invest their money in these enterprises—would have something to say about this wholesale slaughter and reckless hazarding of their money. Their managing agents have no moneyed interest in the companies, and hence can talk big and act wild and recklessly in handling the companies, but the officers and stockholders should take warning before it is too late, and, if necessary, decapitate those managers who fight so bravely and vote so freely behind their company's money bags.

The public are satisfied with the rates that obtain, and our business men will appreciate the fact that a deviation from the same, resulting in a war of rates, will be the forerunner of numerous fires and disastrous conflagrations. A war of rates means demoralization and less care in the selection of risks. Designing men will take advantage of this state of things to double up their insurance. The most hazardous risks, morally and physically, will be over-insured, and fires, widespread and destructive, will follow; so that it is to the interest of every property holder in Oakland to cry down this rate war and enter their solemn protest against the majority in the union voting for such an issue. We trust that the companies will come to their senses before a sweeping fire (the outcome of their action) brands the companies as the enemies rather than the protectors of the public, and the Pacific Insurance Union a demoralizer rather than a reformer; a curse instead of a blessing.

JUSTICE.

Oakland, February 6, 1890.

LANDREGAN'S DRUM.

Sued for a Debt Which He Says He Does Not Owe.

The trial of the case of Louis Bruschi, as assignee of Joseph Pracy and A. J. Mayer, against James Landregan of Berkeley was commenced before Judge Ellsworth and a jury in the Superior Court today. It is asserted, on the part of the plaintiff, that Pracy & Mayer sold to the defendant, at his special instance and request, one amalgamating drum and fixtures complete for operating the same. In his answer to the claim Landregan denies the debt, and asserts that he is not responsible for the payment of the money, and therefore declines to meet the demand. A jury has been selected, and the jurors will decide as to the correctness of the claim.

Four Marked Ones.

The police yesterday stripped and examined four prisoners and booked their several peculiarities for future reference. The marked ones were Richard Hyland and Eddie Cahill, petty larcenists; Charles McWorthy, opium fiend, and Ah Him, held for bribery. The quartet were also photographed. On the way down town Ah Him thied a piece of paper to a fellow countryman on the sidewalk, and Officer Moore intercepted the message, which contained a request for opium.

HORSES HAVE INFLUENZA

An Epidemic Distemper Follows Quickly the Epidemic Disease.

The farmers around Irvington are worried by a disease which has broken out among the horses in that section, and which greatly resembles the dreaded grip.

G. A. Babb, a prominent teamster of that neighborhood, describes the symptoms of this disease. The horses first snuffle and discharge a thin fluid from the nostrils, which is followed with symptoms of foundering, the hind legs being the subject of the severest attack. The breathing is short and jerky, and actual panting or gasping sometimes occurs. The animals feed fairly well, but appear to have great difficulty in drinking, as if their throats were sore. The ankles of hind legs show much weakness. The disease lasts from ten days to three weeks, and recovery is quite slow.

John S. Walker, proprietor of the El Dorado stables in this city, reports that the disease is a sort of pink eye and is prevalent to a large extent in this city. It is similar to influenza and is caused by the long wet period, and the horse being cut in the rain so much. The disease effects the back part of the horses and they stagger and can hardly stand up. He does not think the disease is a contagious one, and says it is prevalent all over the United States at this time. He does not think that horses recover so quickly as Mr. Babb reports, though, and says he has horses that have been sick for more than a month.

BELIEVES HIM FAITHFUL.

A Wife Who Missed Her Husband Taken to the Hospital.

A woman who gave the name of Mary S. Meyers was brought from the pier in a special car at 2:30 o'clock this morning, and removed to the Receiving Hospital. She is a sufferer from rheumatism, and is scarcely able to move. She was kindly cared for at the hospital today, and expects to see her husband this afternoon. The woman told her story to a TRIBUNE man this morning, and related that, a short time since, her husband left her in Colorado and went to San Francisco, informing her that when he had affairs arranged he would send for her to join him. She wrote to her husband and received a reply to start and he would meet her in San Francisco. While at Los Angeles she sent him a telegram informing him that she was on the road and telling him when she would arrive. Unfortunately she was taken ill on the trip, and suffered from rheumatism and was confined to her bed, not being able to walk. When the train arrived at the pier last night she was in a helpless condition, and her husband failed to meet her. The poor woman was compelled to remain in the car until the railroad men removed her to the Receiving Hospital. She has not the least idea that her husband, George E. Meyers, has deserted her, and asserts that he has been stopping at the American Exchange, across the bay. She believes that he is faithful and avers that he will join her when he learns of her whereabouts. The couple have been married six years, but have no children.

MRS. CHURCH'S CHIN.

Its Too Free Use by Telephone Causes Trouble.

Mrs. Nettie Church, proprietor of the White House, sent for Constable Calberg yesterday, and desired him to arrest Superintendent Fleming of the Sunset telephone service. Calberg declined to do so. It appears that the buxom Nettie had been tongue-lashing people who were passing her resort, and also used very profane and vulgar language when conversing with others through the telephone. This was reported to Mr. Fleming, and he went to the White House and removed the telephone from it. Then Mrs. Church turned the vials of her wrath loose on Fleming's devoted head, and wound up by declaring she would have him arrested.

AMUSEMENTS.

Charles H. Hoyt's farce comedy, A Bunch of Keys, will be played at the Oakland Theater this evening and for the remainder of the week.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week Rice & Dixey's Pearl of Pekin will be played at the Oakland Theater, Louis Harrison playing the principal part.

Necrology.

Mary Tarr, a widow 59 years of age, died at 701 Brush street yesterday of consumption.

Eliza M. Brooks died yesterday at the residence of H. C. Babcock in Temescal. She was a native of New York, 84 years of age, and a widow. The funeral was held today at Odd Fellows' Hall. "Granada" Brooks, as she was called, came in early days to Sonora, Tuolumne county, and from there moved to Oakland fourteen years ago. "Granada" Brooks was a dearly beloved and honored member of Temescal Grange, P. of H., Lyon Corps, W. R. C., and the Society of Pioneers.

The funeral of Mrs. Fanny C. Benedict took place at 11 o'clock this morning from the Church of the Advent, East Oakland.

At 5 o'clock last evening Mrs. Ellen G. Fifield died at her residence, 353 East Fourteenth street. Death was caused by a cancer in the breast. The deceased was a native of New Bedford, Mass., 53 years of age, and was the wife of William H. Fifield of the law firm of Cope, Boyd & Fifield of San Francisco.

Evan Williams, a native of Wales, 70 years of age, died yesterday at 311 Seventeenth street. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Welsh Presbyterian Church at the corner of Fourteenth and Harrison streets.

Joaquin Lopez, an old time resident of East Oakland, was buried yesterday afternoon from his late residence under escort of U. P. E. C. No. 7, of which he was a member.

The Late James Armstrong.

The funeral of Captain James Armstrong of the Fiftieth Illinois Regiment, Infantry Volunteers, took place this morning with the escort of Lyon and Appomattox Posts of the Grand Army of this city, the interment being in the Grand Army plot at Mountain View cemetery. The deceased was a member of Ellis Post of New York, but was buried in the plot here at his earnest solicitation, made a short time previous to his death. At the time of his death he was a resident of Novato, Marin county.

A Fatal Defect.

E. F. Calkin was arrested some days since for distributing handbills. He engaged a lawyer and appeared for trial in the police court today. After a jury had been called it was found that the complaint alleged that Calkin had violated the provisions of an ordinance adopted in September, "1890." This was a fatal defect, and the complaint was dismissed. The ordinance intended to have been referred to was adopted about eleven years ago.

A Cheap Sewer.

The Street Superintendent has completed the assessment on the Thirty-fourth street sewer contract from Market street to San Pablo avenue. The total cost of the work was $675 62, or at the rate of 42 cents per front foot. William Heafey was the contractor.

Nye and Riley.

Bill Nye, the humorist, and Joshua Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, are to appear at the First Methodist Episcopal Church on the evenings of March 11th and 14th.

A USEFUL BOOK

Telling an Interesting Story of Railroad Construction.

A new edition has just been issued from the press of Creed Haymond's remarkable argument before the Select Committee of the Senate on "The Central Pacific Railroad Company: Its Relations to the Government." The argument, which took three days to deliver, is full of most interesting matter, giving a review of the most romantic period of railroad building, a clear statement of the relations of the Pacific roads to the government, and a variety of other information of use to Californians. As a work of reference the book is made valuable by the very complete index it contains.

NOT EXACTLY NEWS.

John A. Stanly perpetrated a grim joke in the Episcopal Convention yesterday, when he nominated for Assistant Bishop of the diocese of California the Rev. J. Lewis Parks of Middleton, Conn. Mr. Parks many years ago was rector of St. Paul's Church, Oakland. He is a scholarly man, but of such exceeding small stature that he seemed lost behind the lectern or in the sedilia of St. Paul's Church. The Dr. Lathrop who took a prominent part in the discussion in the Convention yesterday is a doctor of medicine of Wilmington, is not a reverend, and is no relative of Rev. Dr. H. D. Lathrop of East Oakland.

The cost of laying a cement sidewalk six feet wide is not more than 78 cents a front foot, and real estate agents say that such a sidewalk adds at least $5 a front foot to the selling value of property. No more wooden sidewalks should be constructed when stone sidewalks can be laid for this price and bitumen sidewalks are even cheaper.

J. C. Martin, director of the Tubbs Hotel strange line, intends to issue an order to compel drivers to stop the cars immediately when they leave the tracks, in order to allow delicate women and other passengers to leave the car if they desire and avoid the jolting of the car until drawn again upon the track. An exceedingly unfortunate and perilous event occurred recently as the result of a jolting in one of these cars. A lady was made exceedingly ill and has not yet recovered.

For Gourmets.

People in this city desiring a good boarding place, or a single meal served in first class style, are referred to the New York restaurant, at 826½ Broadway, kept by N. C. Milloglan & Co. Here may be had everything the market affords, at the shortest possible notice, either night or day. Polite waiters, and enough of them to look out for those who dine, at this popular restaurant. And the New York has a reputation such as others have tried in vain to equal.

Over Niagara in a Bureau.

James C. Goodyear of Troy, N. Y., is the latest crank who proposes to go over the falls. His plan is to wrap himself in a three ply carpet and incase himself in a mahogany bureau purchased in Oakland, Cal. Lyon & Co., the world famous auctioneers, shipped the odd piece of furniture to Niagara City today.

The Place to Get Your Fruit.

For a fine assortment of choice fruit go to H. A. McClelland, 578 Twelfth street, East Oakland, who always carries a good supply of all kinds of berries, apricots, peaches, plums and everything the market affords; also a complete stock of vegetables. Telephone 383, four bells.

Chester G. Parker, of Oneida, N. Y., was entirely cured of an affection of the throat and lungs, accompanied by a severe cough of several years' standing, by the use of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

A SPRING medicine is needed by everyone. Winter food, largely consisting of salt meat and animal fats cause the liver to become disordered and the blood impure, hence the necessity of a cleaning medicine. The best is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

No humbug piano clubs. Girard's Piano House, 1159 Broadway, sells first class pianos at $10 monthly installments. No raffling off of pianos. Only a legitimate business done. Agents for Steinway and Wheelock pianos.

Aurora House

At 800 Washington street, is very central and desirable, newly papered, carpeted and furnished throughout. Everything first class. The rooms are all sunny, and will be rented on the most reasonable terms.

Thunder.

Another blow at home industry in thundering tones. The Chief of Police ordered our removal signs down at once, or the whole corporation will be arrested and dragged into the police court.

Why is this complaint made against our establishment, which provides a living daily for hundreds of worthy people in our own city?

Why have we not the same rights and privileges that others have? Hundreds of signs can be seen over the sidewalks and on the sidewalks, blockading general traffic. OURS BLOCKADE NO ONE.

Is it that our competitors are frightened that we will take all their business from them because we are getting, they think, more than our share? And we are on a side street at that.

So we will come down to business. We don't propose to let our employes lay idle, and here are our cut prices for the next fifteen days. All our goods are warranted:

500 pairs child's school shoes ...$1 00
1000 " youths' tourist do., 11-13. 1 15
[illegible] " " " " ... 1 25
1000 " " " " extra, $1 25 to 1 50
500 " boys tourist shoes 1 50 to 2 00
500 " men's working shoes ... 1 50
1500 " " " " $2 00 to 2 50
3000 " ladies' goat, kid, and calf .... $1 75 to 2 25

Balance of our $30,000 stock will be sold at our removal discount, 10 per cent off.

Remember our signs are all on end until our removal to the Blake block. Wentworth Boot and Shoe Company, 453 Thirteenth street.

THE BELLAMY DISCIPLES.

The Nationalists Looking Where to Begin Their Work.

The meeting of the Nationalist Club was well attended last night, and a very interesting session was held. The order of business was introduced by the reading of the following resolutions, presented by Theophilus Tucker:

WHEREAS, The Spring Valley Water Company whose interest is to forever prevent this city from owning its own water works, has devised and worked up a scheme to have the city bonded for other purposes to an amount which will render it difficult in the future to issue further bonds for city water works, whereby the people are to be bound forever to the despotic rule of said company in furnishing filthy water at exorbitant rates, which will result in increasing the death rate, depreciate values, discourage intending residents and retard the city's growth; and

WHEREAS, The proposed boulevard is especially for the enjoyment of the wealthy classes, while light and water are for the industrial classes—and cheap light and water means less rent, and

WHEREAS, If the city is to be bonded it should be for city water works, and gas and electric light works, in order that the whole people, and not a few, may receive the benefit, and the permanent growth of the city be thus assured; and

WHEREAS, The water company and gas company have manipulated the matter of submitting the question of issuing bonds, so as to benefit the few, and to perpetuate death-dealing water and high-priced gas for the many; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we ought to do all in our power to defeat the propositions about to be submitted, and that we call upon the patriotic people of Oakland to defeat the same.

Resolved, That the pretense held out to laborers, to catch their votes, that labor will be employed, is an insidious delusion, because a much greater number of laborers will be employed in the construction and maintenance of public water works and light plant. They will also receive more permanent employment and the constant benefit of low rates for water and light, besides the inestimable benefit of good health and a less death rate among children and adults when we have pure water.

Resolved, That we especially request the City Council to consider that the public ownership of light and pure water, furnished at cost, is of more concern to the prosperity, the growth, and the health of our city than any boulevard-park speculation operating in the interest of landowners and merciless corporations, while saddling an enormous debt on already overtaxed property owners.

In a brief speech Mr. Tucker held that water is the greatest essential in city life today. He said anarchists are those who deal in death-dealing substances, and under that definition he thought the water companies the chief anarchists of the county. He said he would not be in favor of giving the Council a boulevard if the Council persisted in refusing to give the people good water.

J. W. Dutton said he thought it would be a bad thing to have it go out that the Nationalists oppose bonds; therefore he would move to strike out from the resolutions the clause opposing the issue of bonds. There was no provision in the law permitting a city like Oakland to buy water works of its own.

A motion to lay the whole matter over for one week was carried.

Arthur S. Dow of the San Francisco Nationalist Club was introduced to speak on the "Brotherhood of Humanity," and he was followed by Eugene Hough. The meeting then adjourned.

NO CREAM IN HER COFFEE.

The Troubles of Two Bad Tempered People of Berkeley.

Mrs. Blanche E. Farnell does not like to be an old man's darling. She has tried it and quit. In Judge Lawler's court in San Francisco she told of the life of her husband and herself at Berkeley. She declared that at the time of her marriage she had means of her own, and said all she asked from him was a reciprocation of the affection which she lavished upon him.

The fact that Mr. Farnell was an old man, a confirmed invalid with a bad cough and that he had $30,000, she said, did not influence her in giving her consent to become his bride.

Before three days had passed, she said, her husband began to find fault with her manner of conducting the household affairs, asserting, with profane emphasis, that his first wife was in every way much superior.

"This was bad enough," said Mrs. Farnell, "but he went farther. He wouldn't let me have any cream in my coffee because he was so stingy, and wouldn't trust me with a cent to pay the household expenses. He was peevish, fretful, and nagging. He scolded all the time and threatened to throw me out of the house."

Daniel Farnell, in his testimony, denied that he had been rude or penurious with his wife. He said she worried him nearly to death by her bad temper. A week after they were married she threw the coal-scuttle filled with coal on the floor in a rage, making so much noise that all the neighbors in their flat, living above and below them, were scared, because they thought there was an earthquake.

"Yes, sir; I did throw the coal-scuttle," said Mrs. Farnell when recalled and questioned by her attorney, who hoped to disprove the husband's story. "I was pestered so by him that I felt like throwing it out of the window, and him after it."

After a divorce had been granted to Mrs. Farnell for extreme cruelty, she smilingly offered to shake hands with her former husband, but he declined the courtesy, and she said: "Well, good-by, anyhow, Dan. I wish you no ill luck. I thought it would be nice to be an old man's darling, but I was mistaken. No more of that kind of life for me. Take good care of yourself, Dan, and don't catch cold."

With a smile, and a graceful wave of the hand, she left the room, while he stood scowling at her. He winced as he put his hand in his pocket to pay the $100 counsel fee for her attorney, as ordered by the Court.

Estates of the Dead.

Appraisers have been appointed in the Superior Court as follows: W. G. Henshaw and W. W. Jacobs in the estate of David P. Barstow. A. Jensen, D. W. Martin and Henry Hanschildt in the estate of John W. Graham, deceased. F. W. Sawyer, John Silva and John Lynch in the estate of Frank Rodgers, deceased.

The will of Neis Peter Lundberg, deceased, has been presented for probate. The estate is valued at $3000 and is bequeathed to the widow, who is named as executrix.

The estate of Flavia F. Brockway, deceased has been appraised at $8,300 and consists mostly of property at Berkeley.

Will for Probate.

The will of John Kavanagh, deceased, has been presented for probate. His estate is worth $1000 and is bequeathed to his wife.

The will of Mary S. Duarte, deceased, has also been presented for probate. Her property is valued at $2000. This is the second petition that has been filed, there being an error in the first papers.

BUSY WOMEN.

The Executive Committee of the Woman's Temperance Union.

The executive meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union took place yesterday in Dr. Van Kirk's parlors, 1014 Broadway. Mrs. R. R. Johnston, President, and the following superintendents of departments were present: Mrs. S. C. Chamberlain, Mrs. W. F. Southard, Mrs. M. E. Miller, Miss Julia Sherman, Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Mrs. H. L. Chamberlain, Mrs. M. E. Darrows, Mrs. P. H. Templeton, Mrs. Dr. Bentley, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. E. H. Burbank, Dr. Van Kirk, Miss Grace Johnston and M. G. C. Edholm. Mrs. S. C. Borland, the Secretary, was unavoidably detained by illness, and M. G. C. Edholm acted as Secretary pro tem.

Mrs. H. H. Chamberlain was appointed Superintendent of Sunday school work, vice Mrs. Rea, resigned. The absence of Mrs. M. M. Negus in New York, rendered the office of Corresponding Secretary vacant, and Mrs. Robinson was elected.

Mrs. P. H. Templeton reported the coffee house on Ninth street as doing a good business, and donated $100 from that source to the Union for temperance work.

The restaurant will have several improvements, adding much to its attractiveness.

Mrs. Johnston warmly commended the coffee house committee for their efficiency. They will also aid the East Oakland Union to start a coffee house.

Mrs. Burbank said the programme for the County Evangelical Convention was arranged. It will be held from 9:30 A. M. to 5 P. M., February 25th. Mrs. B. Sturtevant, Past County President, will preside, and delegates will represent the various unions of the county. In the evening all will participate in a social with the Y's at the residence of Mrs. W. F. Southard.

Dr. Van Kirk suggested that the union invite the annual convention of Alameda county to meet in Oakland. It was unanimously agreed to act as hostess, and the time set is May 14th.

Several arrangements were made concerning the concert of the Jinglers on Friday night at Hamilton Hall.

Mrs. Johnston announced active preparations for the annual School of Methods, at Pacific Grove, about June 15th, and the programme promises a delightful season. Mrs. Borland's Temperance Cadets will add much to the interest.

HE WENT BAIL.

But the Lady He Befriended Failed to Appear.

Mrs. Mary Hanwan, residing at 823 Filbert street, had a difficulty with Mrs McKenzie last Monday night, and after the hair pulling match was well under way Mrs. McKenzie concluded she was getting the worst of it, so she called in Policeman Crafts and they bundled Mrs. Hanwan unceremoniously into the patrol wagon. She was taken to the City Prison, where a charge of disturbing the peace was soon staring her in the face from the register where her name, age, and weight were also inscribed.

To say that Mrs. Hanwan was "exercised in her mind" would be putting it mildly. She was absolutely horrified to find the meshes of the law entwined about her. She wept bitterly, and bemoaned the fact that she had been torn from the care of three children of tender years. Without money, and her husband away from home, Mrs. Hanwan did not know what would become of her infants.

At this juncture the head of one of the city departments, out of pity for the woman's unfortunate predicament, stepped to the desk and laid down a $10 piece as bail, and with many protestations of thankfulness, Mrs. Hanwan skipped homeward to her babies. She was to have appeared yesterday in the police court to answer the charge of disturbing the peace, but she did not.

The gentleman who had gone her bail out of pure pity for the woman's position, is now wondering where his $10 is to come from. This morning Special Officer Goodwin called at the Hanwan residence on Filbert street, found the house locked up, the milk of two days as left by the milkman and other signs that Mrs. H. had vamosed. It was learned, however, that her husband had been home, but to gain entrance to the house he had to climb on a ladder and crawl through an attic window.

There is a prominent city official who has determined to go bail no more for ladies in distress.

THE EMERSONIANS

Say They Know Enough to Stay In Out of the Wet.

The Emersonians of the Starr King Fraternity are fain to believe that the big storms of the winter were designed in large part to assist their pursuit of lofty themes. At least they intimate that such is their conviction in a circular just issued. Under clear skies their enthusiasm languishes and flickers, it seems, even as the sun is said to put out a fire. Perhaps even now their High Priest is praying for rain, an esoteric prayer, not made on the house tops lest a saturated people stone him or sop him in the gutter. At least he has prepared an elaborate programme for the spring months, from which it is learned that the new calendar begins February 10th, when the idealism of Emerson will be farther considered. Professor Howison may be present. A conversation with Mr. Emerson indicative of his meditation on these themes will be read.

February 24th—John Vance Cheney will present the subject of Emerson's poems.

March 10th—The purely literary feature in Mr. Emerson's accomplishment will be considered. An incident of this evening will be Mr. Emerson's references to his peculiar habits of literary construction, in his own words.

March 24th—Emerson as a patriot, Professor William Carey Jones leading.

April 7th—Professor Charles Mills Gayley has consented to present the topic of Mr. Emerson's critical methods.

Meetings hereafter in the spacious parlors of the Blake House, corner of Eleventh and Clay streets. Hours, 7:30 to 9:30 P. M. Persons desiring the benefits of this course, address Mrs. A. G. Freeman, Secretary, 1187 Linden street, Oakland.

The Jinglers' Concert.

The Jubilee Jinglers will give a delightful concert tomorrow night at Hamilton Hall for the benefit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Their programme includes the tender, plaintive Southern melodies and the rollicking fun of the plantation songs.

THE rosy freshness, and a velvety softness of the skin is invariably obtained by those who use Pozzoni's Complexion Powder.

LUNING APPEALS.

Objection to the Assessment for Paving Lower Broadway.

Nicholas Luning, the banker and money lender, has filed an appeal with the City Council from the street assessment for the bituminizing of Broadway from Seventh to First street. The appeal is based on alleged irregularities of the Council's action, the chief point made being that the specifications for the work were adopted by resolution and not by ordinance as required by the charter. Luning is hammering away at the assessments under the charter, whereas the work was ordered and executed under the provisions of the general street laws.

PROUD OF HIS RECORD.

The Father of Fifteen Children, All of Whom Were Born in Oakland.

George Taylor, the night watchman at the hall of records, says that he is proud of his record as a citizen of Oakland. He asserts that he has done more to populate Oakland than any other man in town. Today he is smiling, and greeting his friends with the announcement that yesterday his fifteenth child made her appearance at his home. All the children were born in this city. Thirteen children are now alive and well, and only two have died.

A QUESTION WELL ANSWERED.

In What Respect Is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Better Than Any Other?

WE WILL TELL YOU.

It is the only remedy that will liquify the tough, tenacious mucus and render it easy to expectorate.

It is the only remedy that will cause the expulsion of mucus from the air cells of the lungs.

It is the only remedy that will counteract the effect of a severe cold, and greatly mitigate if not effectually cure the cold within one day's time. To do this it must be used as soon as the first symptoms of the cold appear.

It has been clearly shown in thousands of instances, that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment.

It is the only remedy that will invariably prevent croup, which makes it one of the most valuable medicines yet discovered in this or any other country.

It is the only remedy that has cured thousands of cases of croup without a single failure.

It is the only remedy that will prevent all dangerous consequences from whooping cough.

It is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children in large and frequent doses, which are always required in cases of croup and sometimes for whooping cough. As a proof of this we refer to Mr. John F. Olson of Des Moines, Iowa, whose eighteen months old boy drank the entire contents of a 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without the least injury. Certainly it made the baby vomit very freely; but after taking a nap he would have been glad to have drank another bottle of the remedy, as he liked it. For sale by Kirkland & Trowbridge, 973 Broadway.

Flooded Basements.

As stated in a previous issue of the TRIBUNE, there are a great number of basements in this city partly filled with water and a great amount of damage has been done to the goods that were stored in them. At the dry goods store of J. S. Gilmore & Co., Thirteenth & Washington streets, there is now about three feet of water and several cases of goods that had been put upon stands two feet from the floor were found to be partly in the water and the goods somewhat damaged. On account of the sewer on Washington street being higher than the basement, there is no sewer connection, and the water will have to be pumped out into the street. The goods have been taken out of the basement and no more will be stored there until the rains are over, as the water will rise six inches during the night, after a heavy day's rain.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use the old and well-tried remedy, MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

THE MAGAZINES.

The midwinter (February) Century is notable, among other things, for the final instalment of the Lincoln biography. The chapters include the "Capture of Jefferson Davis," "The End of Rebellion," and "Lincoln's Fame." Two poems on Lincoln follow the close of the life (one by Stuart Sterne and the other by James T. McKay), and supplementary papers on the "Pursuit and Capture of Jefferson Davis," by General Wilson, who commanded the Union cavalry, and by William P. Stedman of Company B, who was an eye-witness. In the "Open Letter" department is an anecdote of Jefferson Davis, showing his indignation at the proposition to use concealed explosives in the coaling stations of the United States Navy. There are comments also in the "Open Letters" on the Lincoln History, one of which defines McClellan's political position. In a foot note there is given a very interesting unpublished correspondence between Edward Everett and President Lincoln on the addresses delivered by the two orators at Gettysburg. The Lincoln life has run through forty numbers of the Century Magazine.

The frontispiece of the number is the enlargement of a small, full-length photograph of Ralph Waldo Emerson, taken about 1859. The portrait is a very characteristic one, and gives the appearance of Mr. Emerson before a lecture audience. As an accompaniment to this picture there is a striking paper made up of Emerson's talks with a college boy, Mr. Woodbury, the "college boy," seems to have made very careful notes of Emerson's remarks to him, and we therefore have a valuable chapter from Emerson which would otherwise have been lost.

In this number is begun the publication of the artist La Farge's letters from Japan, with illustrations prepared by the author. As might have been expected, Mr. La Farge is a most keen observer, and every paragraph is full of that extraordinary sense of color which has given him his fame as an artist.

Two extremely timely papers are on what Milton calls "The Realm of Congo." The first describes a trip made by the United States Commissioner, Tisdel, in 1884, and the second gives an idea of the Congo river of today. The latter is written by E. J. Glave, one of Stanley's former officers, who is mentioned several times in Stanley's last book.

Recent visitors to the French capital will be especially interested in Miss Balch's account, called "A Corner of Old Paris," of a visit to the Musee des Archives. This article is profusely illustrated with facsimiles of signatures of famous Frenchmen, and by copies of old prints.

In the way of timely discussion, nothing could be more to the point than Professor Thorpe's paper in which he gives his reasons for thinking that Washington and Montana have made a mistake in their Constitution; and Commissioner Roosevelt's defense of the Merit System versus the Patronage System. Mr. Roosevelt clearly defines the two systems, and shows that the Merit System is thoroughly American. He also contradicts certain false statements made with regard to questions which candidates are asked.

Joseph Jefferson devotes a large part of the current instalment of his autobiography to his reminiscences of Edwin Forrest, of whom four portraits are given—two of Forrest off the stage, and two in character. In addition to this, Jefferson describes his own first visit to London and to Paris.

Professor Fisher, in the third paper of his series on "The Nature and Method of Revelation," describes the differentiating of Christianity from Judaism, and devotes a good deal of space to the work of the Apostle Paul. Professor Fisher says that Paul "took a stand at Jerusalem like that which Luther took at Worms." He adds that "but for Paul there would have been no Luther."

The fiction of the number consists of Mrs. Barr's "Friend Olivia," Mr. Stockton's "Merry Chanter," Mr. A. A. Hayes's "Laramie Jack," and "How Sal Came Through," by Mr. Edwards, the author of "Two Runaways."

Pictures of several newly discovered terra-cottas illustrate an article by Charles de Kay, entitled "A Side Light on Greek Art."

Among the poems of this number is a characteristic piece by James Whitcomb Riley, illustrated by Kemble, entitled "The Old Band." Other poems are by Richard Henry Stoddart, Orelia Key Bell, Walt Whitman, Clinton Scollard, S. M. Peck, Virginia F. Boyle, and J. A. Macon.

There are "Open Letters" on Baseball, and the New Croton Aqueduct, and editorials on "Further Electorial Reform," "The Fire Risk," and "The New President of Columbia College."

The contents of The Forum for February are:

The "Ethics of Property," by W. S. Lilly, the eminent English essayist, who explains in what the ownership of property consists, and the necessary moral obligations that it carries with it. He condemns the law of merciless competition as inhuman, because it leaves out personality and is essentially unjust; and he argues that morality in business affairs requires some system of coöperation in place of the present competition.

"America's Fourth Centenary," by Gen. Francis A. Walker, who was chief of the Bureau of Awards at the Philadelphia Exposition in 1876. Gen. Walker points out what a great World's Fair should be, and how the opportunity to make one in 1892 is greater than any preceeding opportunity enjoyed by any people, and its possible effects, not only on the trade, but on the politics and the social institutions of the world.

"Key Notes from Rome," by Henry Charles Lea, who writes an argument to show the fallacy of the decisions made at the recent Catholic Congress in Baltimore. Mr. Lea maintains that situations may easily arise where a Catholic's obligations to the Church may conflict seriously with his obligations as a citizen of the United States.

"Problems of American Archeology," by Major J. W. Powell. This is a survey of American archeology, and an explanation of specific American problems that await solution. He shows that there is a large and profitable field of investigation that is neglected for smaller and more nearly exhausted fields in the old world.

"The Power of the Supreme Court," by Eaton S. Drone, who, apropos of the centenary of the Supreme Court, writes an explanation of its powers and of its relations to the other branches of the Government; why it is the most powerful tribunal in the world.

"Moral Aspects of College Life," by President C. K. Adams, of Cornell University, who explains the moral surroundings of college life, and compares the forces that make for good morals at institutions of learning and in the community at large: a good word for the moral effect of athletic sports.

"A Political Paradox," by Leonard W. Bacon, who from the point of view of a traditional Republican, presents this paradox: That most of the men of moral force, in the Northern States at least, are Republicans, but that the Democratic party is more in earnest than the opposing party in furthering moral reform in politics.

"The Immigrant's Answer," by Judge John P. Altgeld, himself an immigrant, who recalls in detail the services that immigrants have rendered to the United States in politics, in war and in industry, and constructs an argument to show that the nation would become very different from what it now is, and would become worse, if immigration were discouraged.

"Mrs. Grundy's Kingdom," by Eliza Lynn Linton, who writes in a pleasing way of the influences of conventional opinion on many sides of social activity.

"Writing for the Stage," by Prof. Alfred Hennequin, a professional student of the subject, who explains the principles of dramatic construction, and finds reason for a bright career for the American playwright.

More than 12,000 letters and manuscripts of John Ericsson, the great engineer, have been put in the hands of Colonel W. C. Church, to use in the preparation of his biography. The first of two articles on Ericsson by Colonel Church, appears in the February Scribner's, with some illustrations from rare sources, among them the reproduction of an engraving made by Ericsson at the age of eighteen.

Eugene Schuyler, the American diplomatist, tells in the February Scribner's the romantic story of a "Minnesota Heir to a Serbian King."

G. Frederick Wright, president of Oberlin College, and author of "The Iron Age of North America," will have a short article in the February Scribner's on the curious and very ancient image thrown up, not long ago, by an artesian well at Nampa, Idaho. Several very accurate drawings from the image accompany the article.

Senator Valera, author of "Pepita Ximenez," is described by William Henry Bishop, in the February Scribner's, as having "gray mustache and hair, cut close, and the firm brown, aristocratic looking skin: he is dignified, polished, comfortably built, a handsome man for his age, which may be sixty, and very well dressed." His social position is of the very foremost. He has been Spanish minister to Washington, and is brother of the Duchess of Malakoff, a distinguished ornament of the French fashionable world.

The abundant and striking illustrations which will appear in Herbert Ward's "Life Among the Congo Savages" (in the February Scribner's), were made from the author's own drawings, or from photographs taken by him.

Lippincott's Magazine has introduced an agreeable diversity in its department of fiction by engaging some stories from popular English novelists, who are also widely-known upon this side of the Atlantic. The February number contains a complete novel, "The Sign of the Four; or, the Problem of the Sholtos," by A. Conan Doyle. The author of that remarkable novel, "Micah Clarke: His Statement," which has created such a sensation both in England and here, needs no introduction to American readers. Mr. Doyle's last story is even more powerful than "Micah Clarke." The scene is laid in London, and the hero is a detective, whose marvellous ingenuity in solving a seemingly insoluble mystery is portrayed with so graphic a pen that Conan Doyle must take rank as a leader in the line of such writers as Poe, or Gaboriau, or Anna Katharine Green. Among detective stories "The Sign of the Four" is bound to become a classic.

The second part of Nathaniel Hawthorne's "Elixir of Life" appears in the February number of Lippincott's Magazine. This is a version of the theme of "The Bloody Footstep," also treated by Hawthorne in "Dr. Grimshawe's Secret," "Septimius Felton," "The Dolliver Romance," etc. Mr. Julian Hawthorne, who edits the manuscript, by drawing attention to the similarity and discrepancies between this and other versions, presents an interesting study of the great romancer's methods of work, and, by paraphrasing such portions of the manuscript as are repeated in the published stories above named, imparts to the whole the character of a complete and rounded tale. The publication of the first part of this long buried MS in the January Lippincott's, giving, as it were, the history of an idea, created a widespread interest in the literary world. The eminent critic, R. H. Stoddard, in a review said: "It is a glorious fragment, which the world will not willingly let die."

Among the many leading thinkers who will contribute able papers to The Arena during the next two or three months are mentioned Edgar Fawcett, George D. Cheever, D. D., General Clinton B. Fish, Rev. Howard Crosby, Rabbi Solomon Schindler, Richard Hodgson, LL. D., Rev. Minot J. Savage, Professor J. Rodes Buchanan, Helena Modjeska, N. P. Gilman, W. E. Manley, D. D., Helen Campbell, A. C. Wheeler, Junius Henri Browne, W. H. H. Murray, Prof. M. L. Dickinson, Stephen M. Allen, A. M., LL. B., F. R. H. S., James T. Bixby, Ph. D., Elizabeth Cady Stanton, H. H. Gardener, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Emily Kempin, LL. D., Secretary of Medico-Legal Society of New York, Felix L. Oswald, M. D., Ph. D.

Richard Hodgson, LL. D., the Secretary of the American Society for Psychical Research has a paper in The Arena for February on Ghosts of the Living and the Dead. It is ably written, exceedingly interesting, and possesses a positive scientific value. Mr. Hodgson, who is one of the charter members of the English Society for Psychical Research, has given every phase of this theme his patient and critical examination, and the fact that he has earned the name of being an over-cautious investigator, will add to the interest and value of his paper as a scientific contribution.

Kit Carson is the subject of a notable and intimate article by Jessie Benton Fremont in the March Wide Awake. The peculiar relations of Kit Carson and General Fremont in the old pioneer days give this recital unusual interest. A fine and surprising portrait accompanies this article.

Mrs. Lawrence Turnbull, the author of the new novel just issued by D. Lothrop Company, "The Catholic Man," is a sister of that popular authoress, Miss Grace Denio Litchfield. Mrs. M. E. M. Davis, author of a charming sketch of child life and home life at the South during the civil war, "In War Times at La Rose Blanche," is said to be a near relative of the late Jefferson Davis and a great favorite in New Orleans society.

Yan Phou Lee's reminiscent volume of his young life in the Orient, "When I Was a Boy in China," which D. Lothrop Company have just put to a new edition, has been placed upon the Reading Course of the Chautauqua Young Folks' Reading Circle. Grant Allen's "Common Sense Science" has also gone into a new edition and has been reduced in price from $1 50 to $1 25.

A study of the character that is developed by the many phases of our modern life is the mainspring of Mrs. Turnbull's new novel, "The Catholic Man," just issued by D. Lothrop Company. Many questions affecting daily needs and duties are treated in its pages under the guise of definite fiction.

"The Beautiful Emily Marshall," the famous young belle of Old Boston, whose beauty was so remarkable that schools were even let out that the children might see her pass, is written about in the March Wide Awake by Frances A. Humphrey. The portrait painted by Harding is the frontispiece of the number.

Ancient Order of Foresters.

Brother A. A. Merritt, a Past Chief Ranger of Court Advocate, who has been suffering from a severe attack of the grip, is convalescent.

P. McCuskey, of Court Advocate, is among the victims of la grippe.

N. P. Fox was initiated into the mysteries of Court Advocate last evening.

S. D. Arnold and John Stone became members of No. 7378 last evening.

In addition to the social benefit derived from a membership in the Ancient Order of Foresters there are weekly payments of $8 to sick brothers and the furnishing to them of medical attendance.

Many members of No. 7378 will attend the entertainment and ball to be given by the Grand Circle of California, Companions of the Forest, in San Francisco, February 18th.

Court Advocate boasts of a first-class vocal quartette. Among its members are also several musicians, elocutionists and humorists. In all, considerable musement is created under the head "Good of the Order" at each meeting.

Frank J. Mitchell and George E. Megraw recently joined Court Advocate.

A Successful Operation.

A MINNEAPOLIS Building and Loan Association which employs 2500 men and women and has deposited in two ears over a million and a half dollars of realty mortgages with the State Auditor, and has never been obliged to foreclose a mortgage, with 285 000 shares in actual force, has made a profit of over 21 per cent. per annum, while its funds have been loaned at 6 per cent, has aroused the jealousy of many of its rivals. The best gauge of merit is success, and the "American" is surely enjoying it. Their office in this city in at 468 Ninth street.

After the Bishop.

A crazy prohibitionist arose in the congregation and fired a revolver at Bishop Whitaker at St. John's church Philadelphia. He was displeased with the Bishop's attitude on the liquor question. He also intended to remove Rev. S. D. McConnell, of St. Stephen's, for the same reason. The man was made insane by the discovery of what wonderful bargains in fall and winter styles of clothing he had missed by not calling upon O'Connor, the tailor, at 1010 Broadway.

A heavy trunk was to have been moved from 203 Eighth street yesterday, and when the Express Company called for it they noticed a terrible obnoxious smell. Their curiosity was at once aroused, and the driver suggested opening the trunk. "Youst youse look a leetle oudt," was heard from the owner "Dot vas mine Limberger cheese dot youse smell, undt I vant mind drunk checked to Germany." "We check baggage to all parts of the United States," replied the driver of the Whitney Stand-and & Oakland Transfer Company. Their office is 422 Ninth street.

MY HEADACHE IS CURED.

That's What D. Hyman of 1063 Broadway Says.

For years I have suffered with sick headache, gastric acidity of stomach with great distress after eating, and constipation. I doctored and dieted all that time and no relief. Some three months ago I began treatment with Dr. Bluett of 1069 Broadway Oakland. From the first week's treatment I have no more headache or distress and am enjoying splended health. D. Hyman, with Salinger Brothers, 1063 Broadway.

A Sad Accident.

Mr. C. A. Delmarage was walking down Broadway this morning reading a newspaper just after having purchased a new $550 piano when, as he reached the corner of Tenth street, he was seen to hastily throw up his hands and fall in a dead faint; at the same moment a large truck swung around the corner, and the driver, being unable to stop his horses, the heavy wheels passed over the prostrate form of Mr. Delmarage. The bystanders rushed hurriedly to his rescue, but only reached him in time to hear him murmur "Oh, if I had only seen the advertisement of T. B. Potter & Co. before purchasing my piano I could have saved over $200." All intending purchasers should take warning from Mr. Delmarage's sad fate and join the new Piano Club now forming at 1165 Washington street.

New Railroad Traffic.

Pigeon flying has become a very absorbing amusement and the spread of the sport has developed a new branch of railway traffic. It is the practice of flyers to send thier birds in baskets addressed to the station agent at a particular station with the request that he release them, mark on a label the time they were released, and return the basket. This request is granted and the railroad men seem to like the work. In quills attached to the birds' legs are messages, on tissue paper, telling the finder that A. C. Reed, the popular butcher at Seventeenth and Telegraph avenue, keeps the best meat in this city.

A New Coal Yard.

John Eiferle has opened a new coal yard on the northwest corner of Fifth and Washington streets, and is prepared to supply the public with wood, coal, coke and charcoal at the most reasonable rates. All orders will be promptly delivered to any part of the city free of charge, and the patronage of the people of Oakland is earnestly solicited.

No so Called Piano Clubs.

If you join such a club, you pay $2 a week or $8 a month and you have to take a certain piano, whether you like it or not, and can not get the instrument till your luck by raffling gets it, they use your money and you have no piano. Girard's Piano House 1150 Broadway will sell you a first class piano for $8 per month and you can get the piano at once and select your own instrument. Do not be deceived by agents; go to a reliable house.

Only Temperance Bitters Known.

For twenty-five years the experience of millions of sufferers, old and young, male and female, have greatly endorsed the miraculous value of

This Pharmaceutical Paradox of the Age.

A vitalizing stimulant without alcohol. A nerve sedative without narcotics. A blood purifier without poisons. A liver cleanser and not cathartic. A purely vegetable tissue-maker, promoting digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion and respiration. A life-giving tonic, pure and simple, without the disastrous reactions of the deadly compounds of rum and alcohol usually sold as bitters.

Was Never Known Before in the World.

Its discovery among the medicinal fruits, roots and herbs of California

WAS A MIRACLE

A TRIUMPH of the CHEMICAL ART

The only change made in the formula during twenty-five years has been to present in two combinations.

The old original remain unchanged, but being stronger, more laxative and better. A new form more agreeable to the taste and better adapted to delicate women and children, but comprising the same tonic properties, is now made and the science of the world is challenged to produce the equal of this,

TRULY & ONLY TEMPERANC BITTERS KNOWN

or to produce a purely vegetable bitters or medicine of any kind, whose action is at once so safe, so certain and comprehensive as the OLD SANDY WHISKERS.

An Oakland Thief Arrested in San Francisco.

Last Tuesday an unknown man, who is believed to be the same person recently engaged in swindling merchants by the "check and change" method, entered McKenzie's livery stables at Eighth and Webster street, and proposed to engage a horse and buggy. About all the regular stock in the establishment kept for transient custom was out, but the stranger said he only wanted to drive about three miles into the country, so the liveryman hitched up a valuable blooded horse, kept for special patrons, harnessed it to a fine top buggy, and away went the anger.

He has not returned yet, and McKenzie has a lot of police detectives on his trail. It is thought the fellow drove the rig to San Francisco and will endeavor to sell it there. A clew to this effect was learned by a TRIBUNE reporter today. A man answering the description of the thief approached McBride of the Bush street stables, San Francisco, yesterday, and wanted to sell a horse and buggy such as McKenzie mourns the loss of.

McBridge was busy and told the man to come again today and he would see what he could do for him. This person answers to the description of the thief, and also of the fellow who has been swindling Oakland tradesmen of late by making small purchases and tendering in payment a forged check for a larger amount on a local bank. He pockets the change and walks away. The operator is a bold one, and is believed to have made considerable money by his swindling. He is described as a man of about 35 years of age, five feet, eight or nine inches in height, and had a full, sandy beard.

The rig he got from McKenzie is valued at $600.

This afternoon Chief Tompkins received a telegram from San Francisco announcing that the police there had both horse and man. Detective Holland went across the bay to bring him to Oakland.

THE SIGN WAR.

Both the Chief of Police and the Merchants Determined.

It is probable that a war of signs and mercantile signals will be witnessed in this city the next month or so, for the Chief of Police and several merchants are sadly at outs. John Hanly and John S. Gilmore are now out on bail, pending their trial for violating an ordinance by hanging signs over the sidewalk in front of their places of business.

But they did not remove the signs.

Chief Tompkins stated today that he will cause their arrest every day they maintain the signs. He said, further, that the Hanly and Gilmore signs are glaring violations of the law.

The merchants declare that they will test the law to the bitter end. They have the advice of counsel, and as often as arrested will give bonds for their appearance, demand jury trials, and keep the signs displayed.

Mr. Gilmore declares it is spitework in his case on the part of the Chief of Police.

TROUBLES THE NEIGHBORS.

A Husband Who Is Tired of the Company of His Wife.

John Leuwirge had his wife brought before the Lunacy Commissioners this afternoon to be examined as to her sanity. He complains that about seven years ago she was committed to the insane asylum, and shortly after she was discharged as cured. Recently she has become very cranky at home, and at times he has been unable to control her. A few nights ago she informed him that she purposed to burn the house, but did not attempt to carry out her threat. For a long time she has been in the habit of arising at midnight and prowling about the house, and her husband has become weary of her company. The husband also complains that his wife troubles the neighbors. The examination is still in progress.

MRS. WOODWORTH.

She Will Not Leave Oakland Until the Lord Directs.

There was a rumor current today that Mrs. Woodworth, with her tents and attendants, intended to forsake Oakland for "pastures new" in a few days. A TRIBUNE man, detailed to visit the revivalist and ascertain if the report was true, found her lying indisposed in her tent on the encampment.

"I do not know when I shall leave," she said, "my plans are unsettled. It may be soon, and it may not be for weeks, for I am under the Lord's guidance, and move only as He directs."

"Where will you go from here?" was asked.

"I do not know."

J. J. PENNYPACKER'S CASE.

The District Attorney Orders it Set for Hearing on Appeal.

District Attorney Reed this afternoon had the case of J. J. Pennypacker, on appeal from the police court, set for hearing on February 17th in the Superior Court. The case has been slumbering in court for some months, as the parties were awaiting a decision in the Ah You case. Pennypacker was fined $250 in the police court for illegally influencing voters at the last city election. He was tried and convicted before Justice Henshaw, and was sentenced by Alexander Laidlaw. Mr. Reed is of opinion that Pennypacker cannot escape the sentence.

FLOOD AT THE COURTHOUSE.

Records in the School Superintendent's Office Damaged.

A water pipe over the office of County Superintendent Fisher, burst this afternoon and flooded the office. A number of school records were badly damaged by the water. When Mr. Fisher visited his office this afternoon he found his books floating about the floor, his desks filled with water, and many books destroyed. The County Superintendent will have his office in an adjoining room until the damage is repaired.

WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

Sheriff W. F. Hale Is an Aspirant for Re-nomination and Re-election.

Sheriff W. E. Hale states that someone is circulating a rumor to the effect that he will not be a candidate at the coming election for re-election. He desires to correct this error, and announces that he will be a candidate next fall.

The Soup House.

EDITOR TRIBUNE—From the ladies of the Humanitarian Soup House many thanks are returned to the benevolent citizens of Oakland for their kind notice of our endeavor to supply the needs of our honest yet unfortunate workmen. We have had contributions from many charitable men and women. But there are many yet who have not contributed, and would be glad to help. All such can call at 1248 San Pablo avenue any day between the hours of 10 and 2 o'clock.

MICHAEL'S BILED SHIRTS.

He Finds One Worn by His Old-time Friend, O'Donnell.

Michael Fahey is the coachman for J. C. Ainsworth, and Michael had a warm bosom friend in Alexander O'Donnell, who lived out near the Four Mile House. They used to pay each other visits, and smoke their dudeens over a quiet game of seven-up, while Michael told of the glimpses of high life that he got through the half open doors of Roselawn. But now they no longer speak, and all because of a "biled" shirt. Now, be it known that Michael Fahey was somewhat of a dude, and he loved to sport a new "biled" shirt on a Sunday afternoon or on his night out, and so he invested in several of these, and took them home to his faithful wife, who, in course of time, put them through a course of soap and water, and hung them out to dry, leaving them on the line over night. That afternoon Mrs. O'Donnell was seen to pass the house, and then the shades of night crept up through the Golden Gate and settled down over the Four Mile House and Mrs. Fahey's clothes line and the "biled" shirts, and hid them all. And when the morning sun arose over Grizzly Peak the next morning the clothesline was there, but the "biled" shirts were gone. Then Mr. Fahey swore vengeance against the thief, but he never suspected his old companion at pedro until he noticed him wearing one of his own "biled" shirts. This was too much for Mr. Fahey, and he promptly hied himself to Justice Snook and swore out a warrant against both Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell.

A jury consisting of but six good men disagreed as to the guilt of Mr. O'Donnell, but decided that Mrs. O'Donnell was guilty. But Mrs. O'Donnell has not received her sentence, and probably will not do so for some time to come. Before the jury rendered a verdict she slipped from the courtroom, and, though that was on Tuesday, she has not been found yet, though Constable Kesler and his deputies are looking for her ever since.

MR. FITZGERALD,

One of the Board of Public Works, Speaks About the Council.

"It seems to me to be a piece of folly for the Council to keep up this friction!" exclaimed Commissioner R. M. Fitzgerald this morning.

He spoke in reference to the resolutions introduced last Monday night by the Street Committee of the Council with reference to the improvement of the walks in Harrison square. One of those resolutions recall a former action which authorized and instructed the Board of Public Works to improve the square. It was several months ago the Board was asked to do this, and the rains coming on then the Board permitted the matter to slumber. The other resolution introduced Monday night invites sealed proposals to do the work of improvement of the crosswalks and sidewalks about the square.

Commissioner Fitzgerald further stated that if the Council could get just one of the leading lawyers of the city to say the Council had authority to do the work without reference to the Board of Public Works, the Commissioners would be the first to quit.

"Why," said he, "they agreed, some time ago, to employ a committee of attorneys to look into the law, and decide these questions of authority, and if they had done so, everything might be settled. But all they did was to run around town trying to get some reputable lawyer to side with them, and I don't believe they were able to find one. I know I haven't been able to find one.

"I have looked into this question pretty thoroughly, and I am convinced that the Council has not the authority and jurisdiction it seeks to exercise. I have asked the Mayor and he is of the same opinion. The Councilmen have been to Victor Metcalf and to John Yule, who tell them they are wrong. I am willing to leave it to such men, or to A. A. Moore or J. C. Martin or William R. Davis, and if anyone will give an opinion sustaining the City Council's position, no one will quit sooner than I. It seems as if the Council ought to settle these matters and let the public business proceed."

SHE MARRIED AGAIN,

Therefore, She Cannot Administer on the Estate of Her Husband.

Miguel Raymundo died intestate, at Haywards, a few months ago, leaving a small estate. His wife applied for letters of administration and was appointed administratrix, with bonds fixed at $200. She never took out letters, however, and subsequently married Manuel Faria, and now is his wife. Faria today applied to the court to be appointed administrator of the estate. The petition is not worth the paper on which it is written. It fails to recite the facts required by law. But, however that may be, neither the wife nor the husband is entitled to administer on the estate under the law, and here is a chance for the Public Administrator to make an honest dollar.

Broken Faith.

Fred Baker was before the police judge a few days ago for drunkeness. On his representing that he had secured employment and allowed himself to indulge too freely because thereof, and promising to in future refrain from tippling, the Judge let him go. This morning Baker showed up again in the dock and was sentenced to pay $60 or serve thirty days. The Court said it is such men as Baker, who abuse the leniency of the court, that occasion severe sentences on honest men.

Has His Mind.

Dan Callaghan, morphine and opium fiend, told the police this afternoon that the Mother Woodworth tent people had captured "his mind" and he wanted the entire outfit arrested. He was sent to the District Attorney for a warrant. Callaghan is a wrecked descendant of a once wealthy family of this city, and his use of drugs appears to have shattered his reason—at least he is very weak minded.

Mrs. Hanwan Arrested.

This morning Mrs. Hanwan did not put in an appearance in the Police Court, although she last night faithfully promised to do so, and her case was continued until tomorrow, and a bench warrant was issued for her person. She was arrested shortly after court adjourned.

Raiding the Tramps.

Four tramps were taken into custody this afternoon at Seventh and Broadway by Officers Barnett, London and Downey. The police will now keep all idle persons "moving on" until they leave the city.

ALAMEDA WATER.

Amounts Received and Paid Out by the Artesian Company.

City Attorney Taylor appeared upon the streets today, for the first time in two weeks.

V. M. Frodden, the Street Superintendent, qualified yesterday by giving a bond for $2500, with Thomas Mills and William Holtz as sureties.

The number of books circulated in the public library during January was 4051, of which 2535 were works of fiction. The number of new members received was 75.

A man named Petry went on a spree at the West End a few days ago and freely patronized the saloons of the Barbary Coast, which includes those drinking places on Central avenue. He lay down on a bench to take a nap, and when he woke up his watch was gone.

E. W. Borwell, a young Englishman, has had a young woman named Whittle arrested on a charge of petty larceny. He had a room in the house of Mrs. Whittle in San Francisco. She recently moved to Alameda, and Borwell alleges that she took with her some jewelry belonging to him. A search in her house did not reveal any, but some of Borwell's old clothing was found, and he charges his former landlady with its theft.

It is not likely that there will be any reduction made in the water rates this year. Two firms supply water, T. W. Leydecker and the Artesian Water Works. The report of Leydecker shows that he supplies twenty-seven ratepayers, a gain of two over the year previous. His total receipts amounted to $1131 65 compared with $887 25 of last year, while his running expenses amounted to $928 35. The report of the Artesian Water Works shows that to date the construction account, including cost of meters, amounts to $382,595 84. A year ago it was placed at $361 078 64. The total receipts came to $51,601 62, of which $41,385 61 were received from rate payers, an increase of $2219 24 over last year. The total running expenses and repairs amounted to $22,729 81, leaving a surplus of $28,874 81. The surplus the year before was $21,149 01.

FIFIELD—In this city, February 5, Ellen G., wife of William H. Fifield, daughter of the late Captain H. F. Eastham, a native of Massachusetts.

☞ The funeral will take place on Saturday, at 1 o'clock, at her late residence, 352 East Fourteenth street, Oakland. Interment private.

A NEW FIRM.

Two Prominent Liquor Men to Start a Wholesale House.

Mr. F. Leonhard, the prominent wine and liquor merchant of 1232 and 1234 San Pablo avenue, after six years of profitable business, has decided to enlarge his wine room, and has taken in as a partner, Mr. C. Schaefer, a gentleman of long experience in the liquor business, the style of the firm being Leonhard & Schaefer. In conjunction with the retail establishment a wholesale store will be opened, and there will be kept at all times the same qualities of wines and liquors in bulk that has made this place so popular.

Still Floating, Long May She Wave.

Notwithstanding the imperative orders of the "Chief" our great ten per cent sign still floats over our store to inform the public that we still live, though out on bail, and that we give a discount of ten per cent (twenty per cent to "chiefs") on all cash purchases made this month. Do not miss the great sale at J. S. Gilmore & Co's. popular dry goods house, Thirteenth and Washington.

TO CHICAGO WITHOUT CHANGE

Union Pacific Railway Excursions leave Oakland every Tuesday and Thursday. Pullman tourists cars from Oakland to Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and Denver without change. The Union Pacific is the only line which runs cars through to these points via Ogden. Rate to Missouri River, $35. For full information apply to GEO. B. SEAMAN, Pass. Agent, Twelfth and Broadway.

NOTICE TO PASSENGERS

Going East. The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad is the favorite winter route on account of its freedom from snow blockades. Pullman Palace sleepers and Tourist cars leave Oakland pier daily and run through to Kansas City and Chicago, without change. Special excursions every Thursday. See J. J. Warner, Passenger Agent, 872 Broadway, S. E. corner of Tenth street.

Police, Police, Police.

The "cops" are upon us, armed with warrants, because we desire to let the public know that during this month we will give a discount of ten per cent, upon all cash purchases. But in spite of the "Chief" we will continue this sale and give our customers a chance to save money, by purchasing their dry goods and fancy goods of us. Remember our place, Thirteenth and Washington streets, one block from the City Hall. You will recognize it by the big ten per cent sign which worries the Chief so much.

J. S. GILMORE & Co.

The branch office of the Western Union Telegraph Company in THE TRIBUNE counting room, Galindo Hotel Building, is directly connected with all wires leading out of Oakland.

Out on Bail.

We are out on bail for putting up a sign informing the public of our great 10 per cent off sale. We are liable to be pulled in again, but nothing—not even the "Chief"—can prevent us from giving our patrons a discount of 10 per cent, and we will do it in spite of them. Be sure and call, as we give a discount of 10 per cent this month on all cash purchases. We will close a lot of about 100 pieces of canton gingham, which got wet in our basement, at 8⅓ cents per yard; also one case of shirting calicoes at twenty-five yards for $1. J. S. Gilmore & Co., Thirteenth and Washington streets.

And all the Gall Factories and Feather Foundries Are Closed Down.

A short red faced man with a hedge fence under his chin, and the map of Ireland on his face stepped into the People's Express & Transfer Co's office and said "I want you to check my trunk to New York. I am going back home, for I am after reading in the papers that I am dead, and that my barn is burned down, and my dog has the small pox and they are going to close the stores to burry me the like o'that isn't pleasant to an Irishman of my sensitiveness.'

It is so generally known that the People's Express & Transfer Company check baggage to all parts of the United States at your residence, besides doing a general express business that even McGinty employed them when he left. Telephone 324, Office 423 Tenth street.
